Oregon Pays Bonds Down To $33,000,000

Bond payments made by the state of Oregon on April 1st of this year cut the state's outstanding bondedness to $33,366,385, it was disclosed today by Earl Snell, secretary of state. On April 1st, payments totalling $1,776,000 became due.

The state's outstanding bondedness as of December 31, 1940, amounted to $35,175,385. The April 1st payments cut this figure to the $33,366,385 marked and put the state in the position of having reduced its bonded indebtedness by slightly over 40 percent since 1930, when at the end of the year, the outstanding bonds totaled $60,339,510.

The bonded indebtedness at the end of 1940 was divided as follows: highway bonds, $14,766,750; world war veterans' state aid bonds, $18,275,000; irrigation district interest bonds, $2,081,635; rural credit farm loan bonds, $52,000. In addition to the April 1 payments this year, the state paid off $34,000 of irrigation districts interest bonds in January of this year.

Large Wheat Surplus Causes Control Threat

American wheat growers are by no means alone in their efforts to control the world wheat surplus in producing exporting countries, according to Will Steen, chairman of the state AAA committee in Oregon, who has recently received word of steps being taken in Canada, Argentina, and Australia.

American wheat growers will no doubt be faced with the problem of deciding on the adoption of wheat marketing quotas, says Steen. A tentative date for the election
