Government To Consult Wool Growers

"The government has agreed to consult with wool growers' representatives as to what will be fair prices for wool for use in the next government orders in view of the increasing cost of wool production," said R. A. Ward, General Manager of Pacific Wool Growers, in a radio address over KOAC, state-owned station in Corvallis on Wednesday night.

Following a conference with wool growers recently, Donald M. Nelson, Director of Purchases of Office of Production Management in a letter to Senator O'Mahoney promised the wool growers' representatives that: (1) The O.P.M. would get out publicity releases telling the wool growers when the army is going to place orders and make known the amounts the government will buy. (2) Calls for bids would be put out at that time so that mills could arrange for domestic wool supplies while the wool was in the growers hands. (3) After a conference with the wool growers a method would be set for determining a fair price for domestic wools at the time that the bids were placed. (4) At the time the bids were placed they would discuss with the wool growers' representatives the differentials between foreign and domestic wools which, in the combined judgment of the O.P.M. and the growers' representatives, would bring about a fair price for the domestic wool grower. General Corbin and Colonel Harding, representing the Quartermaster agreed with the program 100 percent.

Mr. Ward will continue his radio talks over KOAC every Wednesday night at 6:30 p. m. during the wool marketing season.

Marvin Thomas Married To Elizabeth Ford

In a candle light ceremony Sunday afternoon Miss Elizabeth Ann Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ford of The Dalles became the bride of Marvin Thomas of Klondike. NICOTINIC, NOT NICOTINE

A hurry-up call to inform the public that nicotine acid has no connection with nicotine is being sent out by nutrition specialist following reports that some consumers have gained such an idea in connection with the nation-wide program to restore vitamins to white flour. As one of the three parts of the vitamin B complex is known as nicotinic acid, many questions have been asked regarding its possible relationship to nicotine.

There is no connection, says Dr. Margaret Fincke of Oregon State college, secretary of the state nutrition committee for defense. Neither does it add any acid to flour in the ordinary sense of the term, nor, to spike another rumor, is the enriched flour any more fattening than other sorts.
