The 4 types of WINES ARE EASY TO REMEMBER

Wines group naturally with their complementary foods... because wine and food are the ideal companions.

APPETIZER WINES, for before meals, have the keener flavors such as California cherries or Oregon apple wines.

TABLE OF DINNER WINES classify themselves naturally—red wines for red meats, white wines for white meats or fish.

DESSERT or REFRESHMENT WINES are sweeter, heavier-bodied preferably served chilled with fruits, nuts, cheeses or cakes.

SPARKLING WINES are the effervescent, particular "party" wines such as champagnes and sparkling burgundies.

IT'S THE STORM THAT TESTS A SHIP!

Almost any ship can sail in a calm sea. It takes a storm to test the timbers and crew.

This thought has been an inspiration for the entire Pacific Power & Light organization during the past 32 years... as it fought hundreds of sleet, snow, wind and lightning storms; floods, fires and all the other dangers to a power company.

But today every American is facing the worst storm of all time—TOTAL WAR.

Many of Pacific Power & Light's technicians are serving with the army and navy. The remainder of the smooth-working and efficient team are hard at work rushing additional power to scores of war industries... building new lines to scattered airfields, army and navy establishments, shipyards, and food processing plants.

Because of their experience in meeting emergencies, PP&L employees have been called on to take a leading part in civilian defense activities. And, of course, the company must continue to cope with regular operating troubles.

But come what may, the entire PP&L organization—experienced and trained after 32 years of meeting crisis after crisis—will keep on giving you, and 74,000 other users of its cheap electricity, the highest quality service consistent with "all out" war production.

OUR CREW IS SIGNED UP 100%

We are proud to announce that all 796 men and women in the Pacific Power & Light organization are now setting aside a generous part of their monthly income for the purchase of United States defense bonds.

Every civilian, no matter how vital his job, must do more than work harder. War costs money! That is why every man and woman on the PP&L staff has signed up to contribute generously to the national war chest.
