SHERMAN COUNTY HAS NO INDEBTEDNESS

THEY SHOOT A MILE OF POWER LINE EVERY HOUR

...that's why we must build STILL FEWER lines to serve our civilian customers!

● A pair of American machine guns can lay down a barrage of 60,000 bullets an hour. To make that many shells requires as much copper as you'll find in a mile of rural or suburban power line.

Now that our army and navy are firing more and more bullets at the Axis every day, the copper situation is becoming more and more critical. In fact, engineers are seriously considering substituting silver for copper in certain types of electrical installations essential for war production!

For many months power companies, normally the largest users of copper, have limited the length of their new electric lines. Now still more drastic restrictions must be enforced upon orders of the War Production Board.

Thus unless your home, farm or business is directly under an existing distribution line of proper voltage, we can't string wire to connect you up. Under existing regulations the War Production Board will authorize major electric line extensions only for army camps, airfields, naval bases and essential war industries and activities.

Restrictions on extending or increasing electric service are now stricter than ever. Find out if electricity is available BEFORE you build or remodel or make any changes in your electric service requirements.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

WHEN you consider the new products we've seen developed in our time...you'd think that just about everything worth while in the world was invented in the last few years.

It's kind of refreshing, for a change, to find out that some pleasant things in our modern life date way back to ancient days.

For instance - I read the other day about a piece of pottery some scientists dug up in Mesopotamia. On the pottery was a picture of two brewery workers making beer.

That picture was 6,000 years old!

You know, that's something to think about. Beer...6,000 years ago! I wonder if it tasted anything like the good lager beer I have sent up to the house every now and then.

Somewhere else, I read that beer came over on the Mayflower - in fact, if I remember right, a shortage of beer was one of the reasons why the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock instead of somewhere else.

Interesting, isn't it, the way a simple, everyday beverage like beer can get tangled up with history!

Maybe it's because there's something fundamental and human about beer. It's the beverage of moderate, sensible, well-behaved people in every part of the world, and always has been.

Personally, I like it because it tastes so good and is so refreshing... and I know I can trust it. And I get a thrill out of thinking that maybe some writer fellow back in ancient Egypt or ancient Mesopotamia, thousands of years ago, felt the same way about beer as I do.

It's a small world, after all...
