Clare Axtell returned home Friday from a hospital in The Dalles after having a cast put on his leg. He and Mrs. Axtell left the first of the week for Dufur, where they will both be employed at the Angus McLeod ranch. Mr. Peterson, a worker on the state highway crew, has rented their house.

Bob King was up from The Dalles this week to visit the King ranch. Bob has been in school this winter but says he does not expect to return for the spring term. He is in the marine reserves.

Donald Williams is home from Alaska after a winter spent in work there. Don likes it so well he has almost persuaded others to take a trip to the Arctic circle for government work. He has visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Williams, here, and his sisters in Portland and Bend.

George DeMoss left Wednesday for Portland to try to join the Marine reserves.

Reports current here are that Mrs. Margaret Peetz has improved markedly in the last few days.

John Shipley is home from La Grande, where he has been attending EOCE, and is awaiting his call to enter the aviation branch of the navy.

Mrs. Georgia Cochran of Portland visited here last week end at the E. H. Moore home.

John DeMoss says it might have happened before but he doesn't remember it. Last December 22 he and Truman Strong put up some forms on the north side of his barn and the next day with other neighbors poured concrete. On Christmas night it began to freeze, and the mud around the forms has not thawed out yet.

It is expected that the local difficulties about a location for the liquor agency will be settled within a few days and that the store can be established in a part of the city building now partially occupied by the hotel.

News received by Wily Knighten is that Miss Muriel Watkins who taught in Grass Valley some 35 years ago was married in California last month to Fred L. Grebig.

The elevators and warehouses are still pretty well filled with grain in spite of the large amount that was shipped out last October during the scare about the removal of the railroad. Shipping is going on slowly now because of small crews and lack of cars. It enough storage space is to be found by harvest time in this county shipping will have to be speeded up as crop prospects are fairly good now because of the wet ground.

GARDEN PLANNING IMPORTANT

The Victory Garden should be large enough to raise all the fresh vegetables a family can use, but not so big that it cannot be well cared for. According to tests made at Ferry-Morse Seed Breeding Station near Detroit, Michigan, a 15-x-30 foot garden will produce plenty of vegetables for a family of two or three; a 20-x-40 or a 25-x-50 foot garden is ample for a household of four or five and sometimes more. Farm families with no lack of space are urged to plant and use in one way or another all the vegetables possible, but to plan in advance to use seed to best advantage.

A standard size packet of radish seed will plant at least a 25-foot row, according to Ferry-Morse findings. The same is true of carrot, summer squash, spinach, and snap beans. Of such vegetables as require quite wide spacing in the row, as beet and Swiss chard, a packet of seed can be made to plant as much as fifty feet of row.

If one packet of radish or lettuce seed will produce more than the family can use while the vegetables are tender and tasty, sow only part of the seed the first time, and the rest in about two weeks. This is also a practical plan with carrots and beets so that young roots will be coming on for use at frequent intervals instead of all at one time.

Seed packets of such vegetables as parsley and the kitchen herbs often produce more plants than a family can possibly use. Seed of tender vegetables—tomato, pepper, eggplant,—started indoors for later transplanting outside frequently yield many more plants than most home gardeners have room for. Surplus plants might be shared with gardening neighbors to good advantage. An exchange of varieties as well as planting experiences over the backyard fence gives added zest to home gardening and definitely helps avoid waste.

DEPENDABILITY

In these times more than usual it is important to have a dependable grocer-- In wartime prices and quality and even quantities are subject to change.

Quality here will be good, prices will be fair and quantities what is allowed.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"How do you feel about this idea of stopping 'em from selling liquor anywhere near army camps, Judge?"

"I was just talking about that with Will down at the barber shop about ten minutes ago. Tell you what I told him, Ned. I say it's up to the Army to decide. Why should we walk in and tell the Army how to do its job

...any more than I should tell you how to go about putting out a fire? And here's something that strikes me funny. All this worrying seems to be about the boys' conduct around the camps here in this country. You never hear a word of worrying about them drinking when they go abroad. Kind of queer, isn't it, Ned?"
