His Pigs Go to War
Young Johnny Clay of Rocky Mount, North Carolina, is typical of farm children raising victory pigs and devoting profits to War Bonds.

Farm Youth of U. S. Looks to Tomorrow

TOMORROW'S farmers and farm homemakers are second to no school group in their enthusiasm for investing in War Bonds and Stamps to make sure their future is secure. Through the School War program they are investing what they save and earn in War Stamps and Bonds.

First evidence of this is the amount the 4-H Club boys and girls and the FFA boys invested in war savings in 1942 from "Victory Pig" and other projects. A million and a half 4-H Club members put $3,000,000 of their own savings in War Bonds and Stamps and sold $2,500,000 worth of War Savings to their neighbors. Nearly a quarter million members of Future Farmers of America invested more than $1,500,000.

Spurred by the realization that the financial welfare of farm families the next 20 years depends on how wisely they use today's higher incomes from increased food and other wartime production, both groups have set their goals still higher for 1943.

These farm youths are building financial reserves, and urging their parents to do the same, for after the war necessities, to meet financial emergencies and to help them get started in college.

They're building reserves today for tomorrow's farm buildings and for the other things they will need when they're tomorrow's farmers and homemakers.

DEPENDABILITY

In these times more than usual it is important to have a dependable grocer-- In wartime prices and quality and even quantities are subject to change.

Quality here will be good, prices will be fair and quantities what is allowed.

school picnic will be held. The school is being patriotic this year the picnic is being held in the local park.

A free show "Second Chorus" will be offered to the students and the public starting at 1:00 p.m. Wednesday. Due to the poor attendance at the last show, this film will be shown only in the afternoon.

American war expenditures for the first quarter of 1943 were about a billion dollars more than for the entire war year of 1918.

HI-WAYS TO HEALTH by ADA R. MAYNE OREGON DAIRY COUNCIL

With grains the most plentiful foods--meat, fish, poultry, eggs, group of foods in the national food supply, it probably will be made to increase her use of cereals and breads. A greater use of whole grain and enriched cereals will help to compensate a reduced consumption of meat and other foods in the protein group.

All cereals, pound for pound, are approximately equivalent in energy and protein value, but minerals and vitamin content may vary greatly in the different kinds, with whole grain having the most and refined the least. Then there are the enriched, restored and fortified products, and while they are better than refined they do not furnish all the mineral and vitamin content of whole grain cereals, since some factors, notably riboflavin, have not been added.

Grains furnish very little calcium and no vitamin C, so meals must still include milk or cheese and fruits and vegetables, to provide these factors and assure health protection.

Since there is greater concern at present over maintaining adequate amounts of the protein and beat with spoon until blended. Turn into 6 large, buttered custard cups. Set in pan of warm water and bake in moderate oven (325 deg.) for 60 or 70 minutes or until silver knife, inserted in center, comes out clean. Serves 6.

GLASS CONTAINERS

Many of the glass food containers that have replaced tin on the grocery shelves can be used for home canning this season even though the tops are not the same size as the common screw top fruit jar, according to word received by the home economics extension division at OSC.

Most of the non-standard size screw top jars such as those used for most coffee brands, are now being made with a 2 1/2 inch top. A fruit jar manufacturer is now making sealer disk that will fit these.

COTTON HOSIERY

Here's what your full fashioned cotton hosiery will be like according to recent WPB specifications: 1) length not to exceed 30 inches, 2) length of welt no more than 3 1/2 inches, 3) not less than 16 stitches to the inch for seams, 4) no more than 4 colors for any one style during each six-month period, 5) no more lace bands, lace stripes, fancy designs or numbers in the welt or afterwelt. Full fashioned rayon hosiery must now have cotton reinforcement in the toe.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Our men in the service in this war have pretty definite ideas about what they're fighting for and the way they want to find our country when they come back... don't you think so, Judge?"

"I certainly do, George. Just a week or so ago I was reading in a national magazine the results of a poll taken among our soldiers. Each man was given a questionnaire containing twenty-five 'assignments' for the folks at home. He was asked to check the first five in order of importance to him.

"Out of thousands of replies the first 'assignment' to the folks back home was 'Make sure I'll have a job in my chosen field of work when I get back'. Number 5 was 'Make sure that Prohibition isn't put over on us again.'

"When the men in the last war came home and found prohibition had been put over on them behind their backs they were sore as boils. You can see from what I just told you how they feel about it this time, too."

Customers must not only be told of good things to buy, but how to buy them in these hectic war days.

The store that makes it easy for customers to buy will not only make more sales, but more important, will make more friends for the time to come when that will be paramount.

That is one reason why wise businesses, large and small, are advertising now---to prepare for the time when customers are hard to get.

Conditions then will be much different than now when it is merchandise that is hard to get.

They put their best foot forward, advertise their best quality or service. Such a policy will bear fruit when it is most needed.
