"Mother Can Fix It"

Children's clothes have a way of needing Mother's constant attention. These days, when every garment must be made to last as long as possible, a "stitch in time" often saves school or play clothes from wearing out. In wartime it's patriotic to make your clothes do full duty.

Getting the Most from your Victory Garden

Starting plants from seed indoors in early spring is the first step to success in raising tender vegetables such as pepper, eggplant, and tomato in northern Victory Gardens. Sowing seed directly in the open is a definite waste and almost certain to bring disappointment.

When four conditions of indoor planting are met — proper soil, temperature, moisture and planting depth — a home gardener can easily produce a stand of healthy plants he would otherwise have to buy at many times the price of the small amount of seed needed.

Suitable soil plays a big part in giving seedlings a healthy start. A flat or shallow box nearly filled with garden soil and topped with half an inch of clean builder's sand is a highly successful method used by Ferry-Morse Seed Co. in indoor planting at their Michigan Seed Breeding Station. The sand allows the tiny seedlings to break through easily, and there is little danger of too much moisture standing at the base of plants, a condition almost sure to cause that fatal disease, damping off.

The garden soil beneath the young roots a firm moisture-holding foundation and supplies plant food until they are large enough for transplanting.

Sow seeds a little less deep indoors than when planting directly in the garden, keeping the flat where it is dark and cool until seeds sprout. Then bring it into the light, protecting with a glass covering. Remove the cover occasionally to give the seedlings air. As they grow larger, thin out the weaker members, keeping the husky plants for transplanting into open ground.

I'M IN THIS WAR TOO!

They're going to shear me twice a year, now, since Uncle Sam needs so much of my wool for blankets and uniforms and to help make tanks and planes and munitions. It takes 26 of us to clothe a soldier for 12 months, and all the wool from 6 of us to make just 4 army blankets. It's mighty important for our wool to be heavy and long.

GO FISHING WITHOUT GAS

It's okay with Mr. Ickes if the country's ardent fishermen continue their sport but he says, "We still think it's a good idea for them to fish when they can and where they can without extra gasoline." Gasoline for fishing trips won't be available, no matter how productive of food the sport may be.

The amount of aviation gasoline needed to carry 300 Liberator bombers from a British base to Berlin and return is equivalent to the amount of general purpose gasoline distributed in the city of Baltimore in 24 hours.

FUEL FOR USED OIL STOVES

Buyers of used oil stoves are eligible for fuel under the terms of a recent amendment to the fuel oil rationing regulations. Fuel oil rations for use in oil stoves acquired after December 10, 1942 (or March 15, 1943 in Washington and Oregon) have been denied unless the heaters were acquired under stove rationing provisions. Since only new stoves have been rationed, buyers of used or secondhand stoves have so far been ineligible for fuel oil allocations.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS... "Mornin', Judge... meetin' someone?" "No, Sam, I'm just going up the line ways on business. Wasn't that a troop train that just pulled out?" "Sure was, Judge... stopped over here for ten minutes and what a swell bunch of fellows they were." "That's true all over, Sam. Our present Army is the best trained, best disciplined, best behaved in American history. That's why I get my hair up when I hear of some people trying to dry up the areas around Army camps. Why, in a recent report made by the government, it said the Army usually prefers its camps to be located in wet instead of dry communities. And there's a sound reason. In a wet community the Army can control drinking. In dry communities where bootleggers run wild it's almost impossible. We know that from our nearly 14 years of experience with national prohibition. "There's no getting away from it, prohibition does not prohibit."
