HI-WAYS TO HEALTH

Fresh eggs in abundance are coming to market which is good news for homemakers. Under rationing it is not always possible to serve meat as often as we wish and, since meat and eggs supply much the same nourishment, it might be well to increase the usual recommendation of "three or four eggs a week" to "one every day" and hard working men may want even more.

A good egg offers an impressive line-up of food values. It is in top class among proteins for tissue building and repair along with foods like meat and milk. Eggs are also good sources of vitamin A, thiamine and riboflavin.

Once eggs are in the kitchen, it's up to the homemaker to give a good egg a break—a chance to do its best job for food value and flavor. Eggs may lose considerably of both if badly stored or cooked. Here are a few pointers for storing: (1) Don't wash eggs until ready to use them. Washing takes off the protective film. Wipe them clean with a dry cloth. (2) Speed eggs to refrigerator or other cold place for storing. (3) Store eggs away from strong-smelling foods.

As to the cooking, remember to use low heat and avoid overcooking. Too high a temperature or too long cooking will make them tough and such dishes as custards will curdle and become watery. Some people who do not relish a hard or soft cooked egg will enjoy custards or puddings which contain eggs. This creamy Rice Pudding will supply not only eggs, but milk and cereal, two of the basic seven foods required every day.

CREAMY RICE PUDDING
4 cups milk 1-4 cup sugar
1-4 cup rice, washed 1 tsp vanilla
1-2 tsp salt 1 cup raisins, washed
2 eggs, beaten slightly 1-4 tsp nutmeg

Combine milk, rice and salt in top of a double boiler, and cook over hot water until rice is tender, stirring occasionally. Beat eggs slightly and add a part of the hot rice mixture, stirring to blend. Add egg-rice mixture to remaining rice in double boiler. Add sugar, raisins and flavoring; stir well and pour into a 1-1-2 quart casserole; place in pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees, for 45 to 60 minutes, or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Stir rice a few times, inserting spoon near edge of dish without disturbing top brown skin. Serves 6.

COUpons MUST BE MARKED CEILINGs PREVAIL

To check the black market use of counterfeit and stolen coupons, OPA is requiring all gasoline ration book holders to endorse their coupons as soon as they receive them. This should be done in ink or with an indelible pencil.

Endorsement of coupons will have at least two important effects: First, it will immediately discourage dishonesty. Those who might otherwise misuse coupons will hesitate to sign correct license numbers to illegally acquired coupons, or to forge any other license number. Second, the endorsement will make it possible to trace used coupons stolen from gasoline filling stations.

Because of the importance of endorsements in stamping out the black market, failure to have every coupon in a ration book endorsed is a ground for revoking gasoline rations. Thefts and counterfeiting in some areas have reached alarming proportions. Every car owner failing to endorse his ration coupons correctly unconsciously aids these racketeers.

Want to sell a vacuum cleaner or refrigerator. Better check first with the price panel of your local war price and rationing board to learn what the ceiling price should be. You see, used refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, washing machines and metal coil bed-springs are under price ceilings when sold by the individual householder as well as by a dealer. Information as to the correct price ceiling may be obtained by the seller or buyer from the local board price panel.
