

Hollis Hull Reported Injured In South Pacific

Word was received recently that Hollis Hull, son of the late Dell Hull and wife, a former resident of Wasco, raised to manhood here, was injured in a battle in the Pacific area. He has two wounds, one in the knee and another in the pelvis. Not much detail is known from the censorship of the letter. He said he lost all he had and it's supposed he is in the Pearl Harbor hospital.

Sgt Gene Hull and wife from Camp Adair are visiting her parents, Mr and Mrs L L Funk. Gene is just out of the hospital recuperating from an operation. They arrived last Friday and returned Sunday.

Miss Gladys Stone of Willamette University and sister, Elva, of Lebanon arrived Wednesday on the bus to attend the funeral services of their mother, Mrs Daisy Stone, which was held Thursday at the Christian church.

Miss Helen Blau arrived Wednesday of last week from Monmouth Normal for a short visit with her parents, Mr and Mrs Walter Blau.

Mrs R L Anfang of Chula Vista, California is visiting at her father's home, Mr and Mrs Frank Knox. She and her sister, Mrs Robert Collins and baby of Pasco, Wash., will later on housekeep in the grandmother Knox home while their husbands are away serving their country.

Mr and Mrs Diebert Johnson and small son and Wm. Clothier went to The Dalles Tuesday.

Harry Richelderfer was in The Dalles last week and called on Robert Evans at the hospital finding him somewhat better. Mrs Robert Evans, who has been visiting Mr and Mrs Leo Watkins, has returned home to Moro and has a sister visiting her.

The Methodist ladies gave their annual Spring Tea at the home of Mrs Estrella Hailey, Wednesday afternoon. St. Patrick's color etc. were carried out in the decorations. A nice program was given as follows: Reading, Mrs G. Urbe; Song, Anne Clothier; Song, Patty Hilderbrand; piano solo, Carol Blakney; a round was sung by Mrs Blakney and daughter, Carol, and Mary Margaret and Mrs Lois Hilderbrand; recitation, Betty Haven; solo, Mrs Leroy Belshee; and reading, Mrs Paulen Kaseberg. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge to a goodly number of the ladies of the community.

Mrs Harry Van Gilder was hostess to the Tillicum club a week ago Thursday at the home of Mrs John McDermid. Mrs Tracy Fields won club prize and Mrs Basil Bains guest prize. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

The O'Meara family were made happy the past week by two of their sons coming home on furlough. The first to arrive was Cpl. James Yates O'Meara, wife and small son of Camp Columbia S.C., and on Friday Seaman 2nd class, Patty O'Meara of Camp Farragut, Idaho. James and family will arrive back to camp starting this Thursday and Patty left Sunday.

Mrs Esther Stanley left for Portland Tuesday on the bus to be gone until April 1.

Mr and Mrs George von Gaaslock of Blaylock, who have been visiting relatives in Wasco left for home Thursday.

WACS WACS WACS WACS WAC

Do you want a job like this?

Want a job where every hour you work is an hour that helps win the war?

Want a job that gives you a chance to increase your skill, or learn a new one? A job that gives you new experiences, new friends?

Then join the Women's Army Corps and take over a vital job in the Army. For full details about the WAC, apply at any U.S. Army Recruiting Sta. Or write The Adjutant General, 4415 Munitions Bldg., Washington 25, D.C. (Women in essential war industry must have release from their employer or the U.S. Employment Service.)

WACS WACS WACS WACS WAC

Science In The News

By ORSON D. MUNN, L.H.S., LL.S., Sc.D., Editor, Scientific American

When the OPA ruling was recently made that meat ration points would be given in exchange for used fats, there may have been some misunderstanding of the reason for this move. The points were not offered as a premium on patriotism, a bonus, or a prize. There was no thought of bribing the women of the nation to cooperate in time of peril. Rather, the points were offered as a means of increasing the amount of fat coming into our economy, and thus take the strain off our supply of edible fats.

Orson D. Munn

In order to appreciate the need for fat salvage today, it is necessary to look into a phase of our world-wide economy that is too often forgotten. Fats—and in this general group must be included both fats and oils since they are practically the same—are extensively used in the industrial production of many things necessary in both peace and war. These fats may be of animal or vegetable origin. To the chemist, it makes little difference where he gets his fats. With either type he can, in most cases, reach his goal.

Some of the greatest fat producing areas of the world are centered in the Far East. From that area come palm and other oils to the extent of over 700,000 tons annually. Now, however, with these important areas cut off from the rest of the world by the Japs, we are forced to fall back upon other supplies.

American kitchens, therefore, have come to the front with a vengeance. From these kitchens, with the help of the American housewife, can be salvaged millions of pounds of used fat every year. And every pound, every teaspoonful, in fact, is needed, as these United States never needed anything in the past.

For these used fats, after they have served their purpose in the home and are no longer usable for food or in cooking, can be turned back into the national economy to serve a number of useful ends. The fat that you save and deliver to your meat dealer in exchange for cash and meat ration points may reappear in the form of life-giving medical supplies or in ammunition. Or it may go into the channels of industry where it will be used in the manufacture of textiles for parachutes, clothing and so on. The production of tin plate, paints, leather goods and hundreds of other sources of fats cut off or overworked, the American kitchen must come to the fore to do its share. Fat conservation is essential on the home front, in order that the battlefield be kept moving forward.

And, remember, your used kitchen fat may some day save the life of an American soldier, sailor or marine on a far-off battlefield when it appears as an essential ingredient of needed medicine or munitions.

Grass Valley News of Parties, Visits and Soldiers' Movements

Mrs Tom Alley entertained Mrs Edison Sutherland. Among the business visitors with a luncheon at her home Wednesday, followed by contract at four tables, Mrs E H Moore, Mrs Collis Moore and Mrs Roscoe Moore and Mrs W C Schilling were out of town guests. High score for the afternoon was held by Mrs Roscoe Moore with second high held by Mrs J S Newcomb and low score was held by Walther-Williams Co.

Is an old, established firm that has been selling, servicing and repairing cars for a generation.

The dependability of its products and the quality of its service has been proven many times.

Tire Repair and Recapping 401 E 3rd The Dalles

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Sorry Judge, my shipment of suspenders still hasn't come in. Some articles are mighty scarce these days. I don't get anywhere near as much as I could sell."

"With the war going on, Frank, we've got to expect those things. It's true of luxuries just as it is of necessities. Take whiskey, for example. There's a real shortage in that. It's to be expected when you realize there hasn't been a drop of it distilled in this country since way back in October, 1942."

"The only thing distillers have been making during that time is war-alcohol for the Government. So, I wasn't surprised a bit to read how bootlegging and black markets have sprung up around the country as a result of the dwindling supply. Our 13 years of prohibition proved that if folks can't get legal whiskey, they'll get illicit whiskey. Sure hope the shortage doesn't last too long. I'd hate to see this country turned over to the bootleggers again."

This advertisement sponsored by Conference of Alcoholic Beverage Industries, Inc.

Clarence Young, radioman 1-c arrived here Wednesday evening to spend a 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr and Mrs Grover Young. He recently returned from the South Pacific area. This is the first time he has been home for a year and a half.

Mr and Mrs Louis May and children are moving from Redmond to Hermiston and were over night guests at the Frank Pike home Friday night.

Art Bibby and children, Stephen and Janice, and Mrs Edison Sutherland went to The Dalles Monday shopping. Mr. Bibby went on to Portland to visit Mrs Bibby at a hospital.

Gus Engstrom and John Engstrom were business visitors in The Dalles Saturday.

Mrs Don Smith received word from her husband that he was in Minneapolis and is attending the electrician school at the University of Minnesota.

Mr and Mrs C M Clevenger, Mrs C R Anderson and Mrs Tom Garrett were shoppers in The Dalles Monday.

Arzell Lemley returned home from Portland Thursday, Mrs Lemley remained for further treatment.

Mr and Mrs John Block are moving Tuesday to the building where Miss Myrtle Helyer had her beauty shop.

Mr and Mrs G P Adams returned to The Dalles from a trip to Oil City, Penn., where they visited relatives. They came up Thursday to visit their son in law and daughter, Mr and Mrs Don Clodfelter, and family returning to The Dalles Friday.

Miss Dorothy Ball and her friend Miss Dorothy Scholl, came home from LaGrande to spend spring vacation visiting the former's parents. Mr and Mrs Ted Ball, Miss Emma Jean Scholl here.

Jeannette Holmes and George von Borstel came up from The Dalles to spend the week end with their respective parents.

Al Fox of Grass Valley and Mrs S E Summerfield of St. Helens were married at St. Helens March 2. They will make their home in Grass Valley.

Mrs Lorena McNair of Ashland, Associate Grand Conductress of Grand Chapter held school of instruction for the members of the Eastern Star at the Masonic hall Saturday afternoon.

Word was received here recently that Kenneth Barnett with the navy at Auckland, New Zealand was promoted to pharmacist mate Mr and Mrs Tom Douma of Moro were business visitors here Saturday.

Mrs Wallace May returned home Friday from Hood River where she was with her mother, Mrs A J Walters, who has been ill.

Mr and Mrs Dean Reynolds and Mrs Don Clodfelter and many of the younger set attended the formal dance at Moro Saturday night.

Mr and Mrs V B Eakin and Mr and Mrs Ernest Blaylock attended funeral services for Mrs Fred Blaylock at Hood River Monday.

Mrs James Blagg received word that her mother, Mrs Asa Eslinger, fell at her home injuring her ankle and hip. Mr and Mrs Blagg left Tuesday for Forest Grove to be with her parents.

Mr and Mrs Clyde Davis and daughter were business visitors at Wasco Monday.

Charles Anderson of Silverton spent from Thursday until Sunday at the home of his brother in law, Fred Cox.

L K Smith was a dinner guest at the home of his sister, Mrs Lydia Darby in Wasco, Sunday.

Mr and Mrs Willard Barnett and son, Keith, Mr and Mrs W D Earnet and Mrs Alfred Kock were among the visitors in The Dalles Monday.

Mr and Mrs C R Anderson were hosts at a dinner party at their home Saturday evening. The evening was spent playing pinochle with high scores going to Mrs Harold Eakin and Lester Barnum and low scores for the evening being held by Mrs Norris Gilkison and Ted Ball.

The Ladies Social Service club met at the home of Mrs Clyde Stradley Thursday afternoon with 15 members present. Several articles were read by Mrs L D May and Mrs Dell Eakin after which refreshments were served by the hostess, Rev. and Mrs. Cannell of Wasco were present.

O H Buehltz of Portland was an overnight guest at the home of Miss Anna Schwartz Tuesday night leaving for his home Wednesday.

Friday Mrs H A Sommer accompanied by her daughter, Mrs J K Irby, arrived here from Arlington where Mrs Sommer spent several months. Mrs Irby returned to Arlington Monday.

Miss Freida Buehler left Monday for Portland to resume her studies at a college after spending several days here with her parents and her brother, John, who is home on furlough.

Miss Anna Schwartz was a visitor at Moro Monday.

Gus Engstrom and Mrs Edgar Alley went to The Dalles Wednesday to meet her cousin, Mrs Ethel Smith, of Los Angeles, Cal., who will spend a week with them.

Mr and Mrs James Blagg and Mrs Ethel Smith were business visitors in The Dalles Monday.

Mr and Mrs Jerry Wilson of Kent were business visitors here Monday.

Mr and Mrs Wily Knighten of Moro were business visitors here Monday.

T. Lester Johnson LAWYER WASCO MORO

Ziegler's Quality Store GRASS VALLEY

Everything under control

THEY "KEEP 'EM ROLLING" THE RAILROADS ARE THE BACKBONE OF OFFENSE

LISTEN TO "YOUR AMERICA" ON YOUR FAVORITE N.B.C. STATION EVERY SATURDAY 2 P.M. PACIFIC WAR TIME