OPA Notes Paper And Price Situations

And here's another note on the packaging situation, but it is not so encouraging. The manufacture of paper milk containers has been placed under regulation limiting the dealer's inventory. As a matter of fact, the production of other food containers made of paper also is under reserve production control. The War Production Board further reports that the present critical shortage shows no sign of abating.

It's a wise housewife who checks with the price panel of her war price and rationing board before buying or selling a used refrigerator, vacuum cleaner, washing machine or metal coil bed springs. These used articles are under price ceilings whether sold by the individual household or a dealer.

Back From Russia

Eric Johnson, president of the U. S. chamber of commerce, is shown upon his return from a trip to Russia where he met Red leaders including Joseph Stalin and visited many of the industrial centers and fronts. He reports that there is every possibility of prewar cooperation.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Mary and I were just saying, Judge, how lucky we are here in America that we have so many natural resources to help win the war."
"That's right, Jim. When war broke out we had oil, we had steel, we had food, lumber, aluminum...practically everything we needed. There's one thing we didn't have...rubber. The enemy had that."
"But that didn't bother us for long. Soon American brains and industry had synthetic rubber by the tons rolling out of plants. That filled a critical need...you can't win a war without rubber."
"I was very much interested the other day in reading a statement made by a high government official on synthetic rubber. In it he said 'It is fair to regard the rubber manufactured to date as being almost solely the product of the beverage distilling industry.'"
"He also said that, in his estimation, the tremendous contribution of distillers' industrial alcohol to the synthetic rubber program had not received the recognition which it deserves."
"We certainly learned something today, didn't we Mary?"

LOST RATION BOOKS

Local war price and rationing boards have been advised it is not necessary for persons who lose war ration books to advertise for their recovery before replacement books are issued. McDannell Brown, district OPA director, announced today.

In some sections, local boards at their discretion adopted the policy of requesting persons who lost their war ration books to advertise the loss before a replacement was issued. This was done in an effort to recover the original book and to permit the applicant to show evidence, his application was made in good faith.

Experience has shown relatively few books were recovered as a result of this procedure, particularly after provision was made for persons who find them return them by mail, each book bears the name and address of the person to whom it was issued. Arrangements have been made for postal delivery of the books the same as other mail.

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE

In the Memory of Sister, Maud Akers, Noble Grand of Marian Rebekah Lodge No. 127, Wasco.

Again that unwelcome yet relentless visitor, death, hath entered the portals of our lodge room and summoned a dear sister to the beautiful home beyond. Her zealous work in the interests of our beloved order, and her life laden with gentleness and kind deeds, has won for her the plaudit of the good Master, and will cause her name to be cherished in the effectuate memory of our lodge.

And whereas, the all-wise Father hath called our beloved sister to the New Jerusalem, where happily she hath heard the signal of her release on the bells of the Holy City, the chimes of eternal peace. And she having been a faithful and ardent worker in the teaching of Friendship, Love, and Truth, therefore be it

Resolved, that Marian Rebekah Lodge No. 127 in testimony of her loss, and to express its Rebekah love, drape its charter in mourning for thirty days and that we tender to the family of our deceased sister our sincere condolence and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, the Pacific Odd-Fellow, and the Sherman County Journal.
