

Former Moro Boy Drowned In Columbia

Beth S. Hayes, youngest son of the late Mr and Mrs Steve S. Hayes, early day settlers and county clerk of Sherman county, was drowned in the Columbia River Tuesday night while fishing. He was born in Moro 48 years ago and has recently been living in Rainier near where he was drowned. Surviving are his widow and three children, a sister, Mrs M. R. MacEwan and a brother, Dean Hayes both of Portland.

There is no paper drive being carried on around Moro at this time and the Odd-Fellows building is not available for the storage of paper brought in. It therefore accumulates in the doorway. The marshal requests that householders hold their paper until the drive begins so that unsightly bundles of paper be not scattered over the street about the entrance.

Mrs Lena Gearcy came up last week from Portland with her grand daughter Connie Ruggles, and remaining until Tuesday morning here. She left Tuesday morning with Mr and Mrs Ruggles who went down so that charges could receive further attention to his eye.

Mr and Mrs Karl Eston and daughter, Patricia of Pendleton, were here last Friday to visit Vernon Shipley, at the home of his mother, Mrs Tom Douma. Karl is now carpenter at the Pendleton Air base.

Mrs Estrella Dillinger left Thursday after spending a week here with relatives. She is still living in Salem having bought a home there recently.

PFC Frank Sayrs is now at the Miramar hotel near Santa Barbara, California where he went after ending his furlough here with his parents, Mr and Mrs Carl Sayrs. He is resting and taking treatments for illness contracted during his 24 months of duty in the Pacific where he was bandman with an infantry division.

Little Jackie Bull visited here last week with his grandparents, Mr and Mrs M. A. Bull. He went home over the last weekend to Condon.

Mr and Mrs John Pointer and son, Glen, were here visiting Mrs Tom Douma and son, Vernon. Mr. Pointer is Mrs Douma's brother.

Mrs W. W. Knighten is teaching in Rufus this week.

Mrs A. B. Christianson and son, Ben, went to Portland Wednesday to see about Ben getting sworn into the navy.

Mrs Ned Thompson and Etta Evans are visiting in the Valley with relatives.

J. D. Moberg was in Astoria for a few days the first of the week on business.

Mr and Mrs C. S. Wiley were here Easter weekend visiting Mrs Wiley's parents, Mr and Mrs J. C. Freeman.

Stephen Oveson was brought home from the hospital Wednesday evening after having his appendix out.

BANKS HELPFUL

Cooperation of Oregon banks was a major factor in the success of the 6th war loan, E. C. Sammons, state chairman of the war finance committee, announces, and offers statistics compiled at the war finance committee office to substantiate his statement.

Oregon's 135 banks sold or processed $122,034,100 worth of bonds, or 77.6 per cent of the state's total for the 6th war loan. Sherman county banks issued $203,500 in bonds during the campaign, or 59.6 per cent of the county total sales.

MORE CARS NOW

Motor vehicle registration in Oregon at the end of January, 1945, totaled 356,638 vehicles, an increase of 4,208 over the number for the same period of 1944. Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell said today.

Of the total registration, 2,288, 253, or 90 per cent, were private passenger cars. A year ago there were 286,418 private vehicles.

There were 35,243 trucks, compared to 34,048 a year ago, and registration fees totaled $2,736,666.29, compared to $2,658,046.11 a year ago.

"We've had PP&L electric service from cellar to garret since 1911" says H. A. Reynolds, of the Prospect Heights District, Walla Walla, Wash.

"When our farm home was built, in 1900, we had a carbide gas lighting system built in, but in 1911, the year after PP&L was organized, they brought electric service to our farm—about two miles south of town. The same line also served the Prospect Heights school house, one of the first rural schools in this area to get electric lights.

"In 1858 a log cabin was built on this place. It's still standing and is quite a historic landmark. Now it serves as a storeroom, and has electric lights like all our other farm buildings.

"As early as 1918, electric lights were installed in our chicken houses to step up egg production. I believe this was the first installation of its kind in the Walla Walla area.

"We have a big well on the place—20 feet in diameter—with two automatic electric pumps. This well supplies water for two houses, as well as for the barns, chicken houses, and quite a bit of irrigation.

"Until a fellow stops and thinks back thirty or thirty-five years, he hardly realizes how much progress we've made electrically since PPEL started in business. And the same 'go-ahead' spirit is bound to carry us along in the future."

Mr. Reynolds was born in 1863 on the farm where he makes his home now. He attended Whitman Seminary (later Whitman College), then went to the University of Michigan, graduating in 1886. Returning to Walla Walla, he studied law and was admitted to the bar.

In 1900 Mr. Reynolds bought his present 240-acre farm, part of the 640-acre donation land claim which had belonged to his mother. He has served four terms as Walla Walla County Commissioner, and two terms as a representative in the Washington State Legislature.

Mr. Reynolds has five adult children. Two daughters live with him on the farm, and one daughter lives in Southern California. His son, Jay, was a flight instructor in Montana until recently, and Allen, his other son, teaches high school in Walla Walla.

35 YEARS OF ELECTRICAL PROGRESS

1910 Mazda lamp replaces old carbon bulb, giving more light per kw. PP&L gives users more kw per dollar.

1920 Electric cooking being popularized by Pacific Power & Light. Electric water heating era on the way.

1930 The whole electric industry promotes food saving and health protection with electrical refrigeration.

1940 Development of fluorescent lighting offers improved opportunities for "Better Light—Better Sight".

1945 Television now ready for post-war homes. Great advances in science of electronics await peacetime use.
