"PP&L's pioneering has figured in the success of my shop"

... says Clayton Speck, Automobile Dealer in Sunnyside, Washington

"When I first started in the automobile business, I ran a blacksmith shop along with it for bread and butter, and was lucky to have a single electric motor and four 32-candlepower carbon filament lamps. I shod horses by the light of one of the lamps, pumped tires by hand, and delivered gasoline from a measuring can filled from a pitcher pump. That was 33 years ago.

"Today, thanks to PP&L's progressiveness, we use more than 30 electric motors, and light the shop as bright as day. And we get all this electricity at a small fraction of the cost per kilowatt-hour 33 years ago.

"In this great farming territory that ships 600,000 tons of food to market every year, it's our job to keep farm machinery and trucks repaired and on the go. And we're doing it, with electric power tools and PP&L's dependable electric service.

"Pacific Power & Light Company has played a big part in development of the Yakima Valley. Its forward-looking policies, good service, and reasonable rates have helped a lot in getting the new businesses and food processing industries that are locating in this area."

Clayton Speck, owner and manager of Clayton Speck Motors, has been identified with business activity in Sunnyside since 1909, and with the automobile business since 1911.

A native of Lenark, Illinois, he was working for the Milwaukee Railroad in Chicago when he came to Sunnyside on a vacation trip in 1909. He saw the promise in the Yakima Valley, resigned his railroad job, collected a month's pay of $80, and staked his future on the development of the Sunnyside district.

When he established his own automobile business, in 1912, there were only about 30 cars in the entire lower Yakima Valley. In 1936 he built his own modern garage building and completely equipped it with electric power tools. Much of his electrical equipment has been busy during the war, machining valve fittings for Liberty ships.

The Speck home makes generous use of electricity, too. Their first electric range was bought in 1912. And they have had electric refrigeration since 1924.

35 YEARS OF ELECTRICAL PROGRESS

 1910 Mazda lamp replaces old carbon bulb, giving more light per kw. PP&L gives users more kw/h per dollar.	 1920 Electric cooking being popularized by Pacific Power & Light. Electric water heating era on the way.	 1930 The whole electric food saving and health electric industry promotes protection with electrical refrigeration.	 1940 Development of fluorescent lighting offers improved opportunities for "Better Light—Better Sight".	 1945 Television now ready for post-war homes. Great advances in science of electronics await postwar use.
