MANY FAIL LICENSE EXAMINATIONS

Lack of understanding of Oregon's speed laws and where to file reports on accidents occurring in rural areas headed the list of errors made by persons taking the written law test for Oregon driver's licenses, in a study made during the month of December, Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell Jr., said today.

Errors in turning and parking led the list of mistakes made during the road tests by the same group of applicants.

A total of 636 persons, who visited Salem examination office during the month, made 1,433 errors in the written examination on Oregon motor vehicle laws, and 649 errors in the road test, Farrell said.

Of the total errors made in the written examination, 20 percent involved the Oregon speed laws. Twelve percent involved persons who did not know that accidents occurring in rural areas should be reported to the sheriff of the county in which they occur. Failure to know the regulations on dimming lights, the use of traffic lanes, the use of hand and arm signals and on the right of way were frequent causes of errors in examinations.

Of the total of 649 errors made in the road tests, 24 percent involved failure to keep in the correct lane of traffic.

One leg amputated, the other thickened by long months of shoeless walking over rough city streets, this child of Naples and his ragged companion are among the thousands who will be aided by the Victory clothing collection overseas relief.

Dimes Did This

Here's five-year-old Donald Anderson of Prineville, Ore. the spirited little fellow whose inspiring victory over infantile paralysis keynotes the 1946 March of Dimes, January 14-31, conducted by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Standing in front of the March of Dimes poster showing him during and after his illness, Donald puts on a little toy gunplay for the photographer.

George Peck Heads Crop Insurance

George N. Peck, Lexington, has been appointed eastern Oregon supervisor for the Federal Crop Insurance corporation, said Willis C. Boegli, Oregon director.

Peck has been a wheat grower in Morrow county for 30 years, and is a past president of the Eastern Oregon Wheat League. He is a director of the Morrow County Grain Growers association, and has served as a county commissioner and as a member of the county AAA committee.

As district supervisor, Peck will select, train and supervise county loss adjusters, who will appraise losses on insured farms. Peck also will be available for assisting county AAA committees with yield, rate and sales work.

Insurance contracts are now being offered on the 1946 spring wheat crop, with March 16 the closing date. Growers and others interested in a wheat crop on 2724 Oregon farms is covered by all-risk federal crop insurance.

Mrs Josephine May has sold her house in Moro, known as the Urquhart house, to Harry Benson. Work of tearing down the old Methodist church has gone on to practical conclusion and the pile of lumber is now larger than the church. It was a well built structure.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

DICK: "I wonder how the distillers feel about that new movie built around an alcoholic."

OLD JUDGE: "It's funny you asked that, Dick... I was just reading a piece about it."

DICK: "What did it say?"

OLD JUDGE: "A very sensible statement. It said the beverage distillers are fully aware of this problem and are cooperating in every way possible to help solve it. The alcoholic is to the beverage distilling industry what the reckless driver is to the automobile industry. There is nothing wrong with the automobile, but in the hands of a man who doesn't know how to drive it or is reckless, it becomes a menace. Likewise, it's not the use but the abuse of alcoholic beverages that causes trouble."

DICK: "Wonder why it is most men can drink moderately and others can't?"

OLD JUDGE: "Intensive research at a great university has shown that most excessive drinkers are really sick people. They are suffering from some physical, social or emotional upset. And great strides have been made in developing clinical methods of helping these unfortunate people."

Be Specific - say "Union Pacific"

They're still coming back by the thousands—those fighting men from overseas. America's railroads are doing their part to get them home as rapidly and comfortably as possible.

But civilian travel conditions will improve. Before very long you can take that trip East, to Colorado, or other of the many scenic areas served by Union Pacific.

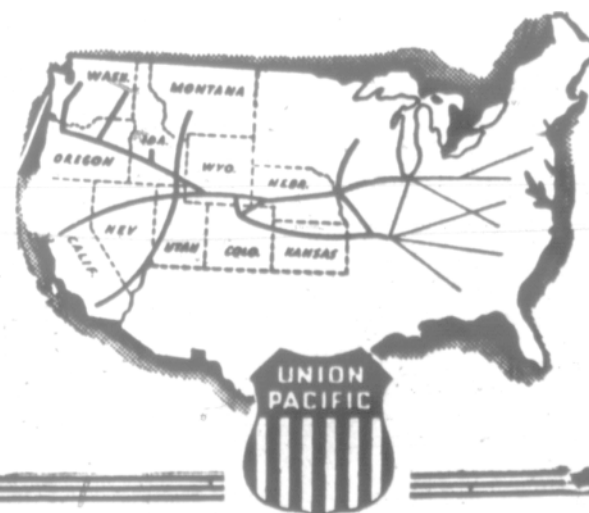

Travel in comfort over one of the nation's smoothest roadbeds. Sleep soundly—dine relaxed—enjoy the ever-changing scenic panorama. Your journey by train will be a high spot of your vacation or business trip.

Take your choice of a Union Pacific Streamliner... a Limited... or the famous low-cost Challengers.

Union Pacific offers the world's greatest vacation travel bargain; serves more western scenic regions than any other railroad.

There's a simple, highly satisfactory way to arrange for safe, enjoyable transportation; just be specific, say "Union Pacific."
