INDIAN FISHING

The whites and the Indians are having a bit of trouble over fishing at Celilo, trouble that so far has been mostly legal although there was some physical violence.

It is an economic conflict. Fishermen of Oregon and Washington want to sell the salmon that is canned for food.

Yet, in the struggle for fishing rights, the Indians are entitled to the sympathy of the citizens of the area.

While we have our representatives in Paris professing to speak for the smaller nations of the world it is a sorry comment that we are taking away some of the rights of the Indian nations we defeated a generation ago.

The poundage is not known at this office, but is doubtful if the Indians with their dip nets and spears are responsible for more than a small proportion of the fish taken from the river.

McREYNOLDS Former Supreme Court Justice McReynolds died this week and was laid away amid many comments on his reactionary decisions.

He disagreed in the case where in the government refused to pay its obligations in gold as specified. The new deal prevailed and now one is considered a sort of reactionary and has been if he still holds to the honesty and integrity of earlier America.

MORE POPULATION Indications are that small towns will have a larger share of the population in years to come.

It is agreed that the general age of the nation's people will be older and have fewer children, both from now on. People live longer of which tend to increase the average age.

The urge to get a pension has not abated and thousands of persons sixty years old or over can now retire with a pension from the government or from some company that provides its employees with old age security.

It is possible to keep a cow, some chickens, raise a garden and take life in the independent manner about which the so-called wage slave is supposed to dream about when "chained" to his production line.

This manifestation is of direct benefit to small towns. These people are usually good citizens who just want to be let alone and who have no desire to upset the mores and customs of the community.

SMALL BUSINESS

Secretary Wallace has announced a new plan for federal aid for small business which might cause many small business men to recall a statement ascribed to Andrew Jackson to the effect that he would take care of his enemies if someone would only protect him from his friends.

Surely small business has had no worse enemy than federal interference with the economics of the nation. A big corporation can hire experts to guess, or can have emissaries in Washington to observe. The small fry hardly has time to read the papers. How can he be expected to keep informed on what basic changes are being made by the heavy thinkers with their self-made responsibility for the "too dam dumb" people who populate the country.

As we recall the governmental definition for small business is one that hires less than 100 employees, or earns less than $100,000 per year. We wouldn't know how one could write such a definition and know anything about small business. Soon, perhaps, we will have a new government word to express that puerile fraction of "small" that signifies the businessman who does all the work by himself and family and makes $4000 some years.

Perhaps one of the easier—and more pleasant—ways of achieving a financial competence is by multiple birth. There appears to be no difficulty in being commercialized.

In Other Days

From the Observer, Aug. 30, 1907 Record. J. W. Engberg is threshing his crop on the Blacklock farm. Off 80 acres he got 54 bushels per acre. This is part of 840 acres that the Record recently intimated would yield 40 bushels per acre.

Moro school directors have concluded negotiations and secured a full corps of teachers, as follows: H. C. Anderson, Mrs. Slayback, Miss Mae Anderson and Miss Jessie Reece. The fall term will open on the 16th of September.

Its a 10 lb-$50,000 boy, born to Mr and Mrs George Kaseberg, on the 25th, at Mayor Messinger's home in this city.

Rev. Holladay married Miss Anna Belle Chrisman and A. E. Blackburn, at Rufus on the 25th. The happy couple will be at home in The Dalles after the honeymoon.

The special ordinance passed by the city council last Tuesday granting a fifty year franchise to a company to furnish lights and power to the city appears in this issue and should be read carefully.

The new residence of Dr Taylor is nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy in two or three weeks. This new residence is on the bungalow style and is very attractive and built in a slightly location.

From the Observer, Sept. 2, 1927 The large barn owned by T. S. Reese in the upper Hay Canyon district was completely destroyed by fire about 8:30 Saturday evening. Also listed in the property destroyed was all the harness owned by Mr Reese, about 100 loads of straw close to the barn, feeding pens and a wagon and header bed parked close to the barn.

A heavy hail storm visited the Omar Sayers farm at Erskine last Saturday afternoon. Aside from causing muddy roads, no damage was reported.

A bride to be shower was given Monday evening at the R. C. Byers home north of Moro by Miss Evelyn Christianson in honor of Miss Dorothy Hodgkins.

F. D. Platt expects to leave Moro next Saturday morning for Paris, France, where he will attend the national convention of the American Legion.

Mrs Cooper Hurt In Harvest Crash

Mrs Marie Barnett Cooper is in a hospital in The Dalles after having broken her leg last week. She was standing by a tractor in the field, according to report, when a pick-up ran into her breaking her leg and seriously injuring her knee.

Mr and Mrs G. H. Root attended the meeting of Sherman countians in Portland last Sunday when they met many friends of other days. Mr and Mrs LeRoy Belshee and daughter were also present at the picnic.

Mr and Mrs Joe Bryant of Seattle were recent visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs Vivian Rust. Mr and Mrs Al Dormaler are the parents of a baby girl born Friday night at The Dalles hospital.

Mr and Mrs Ira Fridley and Joan spent several days last week visiting in Portland. Visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs Vivian Rust last week were Mr and Mrs Claud Finley Jr and daughter of Salem. Mrs Finley is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Rust.

Mr and Mrs Hugh White left Tuesday for Seattle where they will continue by boat to Anchorage, Alaska. They plan to spend some time visiting their daughter, Mrs Bob Turner and family. Mr and Mrs Jim Brooks of Hermiston were overnight guests at the home of Mr and Mrs O. W. Barnett Monday.

ELK HUNTING OPENS

A small area including approximately 25 sections of the steep east slope of the Blue Mountains west of Haines in Baker county will be open to hunting of bull elk only from August 31 through September 2.

All hunters will be required to check-in and out of the area at a Game Commission checking station located in Haines. The checking station will open at 12 a. m., Thursday, August 29th, and close at 5 p. m., September 3.

Any person holding a regular elk license may hunt in the area, but in view of the fact that there are few legal animals in the area and the meat may be difficult to transport, this season is not recommended for persons who must travel a long distance.

NON-COMMISSIONED GRADES NOW OFFERED TO FORMER ARMY OCCUPATIONAL SPECIALISTS

Good jobs in non-commissioned grades are being offered now by the Regular Army to qualified former servicemen!

Veterans discharged on or after May 12, 1945, who enlist or reenlist for 3 years may be enlisted in the non-commissioned grade for which qualified, provided this grade is not higher than that held at time of discharge, and provided that at least 6 months of former service was in one of 400 designated military occupational specialties in which enlistment is now desired.

Important, interesting jobs are open in hundreds of skills and trades in the Army, with splendid training and educational advantages! These are in addition to free food, housing, clothing, medical and dental care, low-cost insurance.

There's adventure, travel, education, a secure and profitable future in this vital, realistic profession. Get full details at your nearest Army Recruiting Station.

Highlights of Regular Army Enlistments

- 1. Enlistments for 1 1/2, 2 or 3 years. (1-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with 6 or more months of service.)
2. Enlistment age from 18 to 34 years inclusive (17 with parents' consent) except for men now in the Army, who may reenlist at any age, and former service men depending on length of service.
3. A reenlistment bonus of $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service, provided reenlistment is within 3 months after last honorable discharge.
4. A furlough for men who reenlist within 20 days. Full details of other furlough privileges can be obtained from recruiting Offices.
5. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to reenlist.
6. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
7. GI Bill of Rights benefits assured for men who enlist on or before October 5, 1946.
