Worth Waiting For!
You'll fall in love all over again with the beauty of modern electric living, when the waiting is over, and increasing production brings sparkling new appliances for you, and much-needed power line and substation equipment for us. Soon your dealer will have the electric washers, ironers, ranges, refrigerators, and all the other appliances you want. They'll bring you luxury and convenience at extra low operating costs, too, for PP&L electric rates are only half the national average! Yes, the new electric appliances ARE worth waiting and saving for.
