

4-H Club Kids Leave For School

The 4-H club children of Sherman county drove to The Dalles Tuesday morning to take the bus for Corvallis where they will spend the next ten days attending summer school, to which most of them earned their scholarship.

Verion Platt has bought the Four Square Gospel church (originally the Moro Baptist church) and will probably tear it down, but may construct a side walk along the street in front of it later.

W. A. Hayes, caretaker at the fair grounds, injured his foot this week and had to go to the hospital for treatment Monday.

Two young men wanted by authorities at Colfax, Washington as jail breakers were apprehended by Sheriff Fields Sunday at Dinty's. They were W. H. Leinweber and Raymond Tetric, 17 and 18 years of age respectively. They were returned to Colfax by a police officer Monday.

Mrs Ed Cushing, daughter of Mrs Edna Melzer, is here since Saturday to visit her mother and other relatives.

Mrs Bessie Hendricks Seely and daughter, Carlotta, were in the county Monday and Tuesday from their home at Richmond. Carlotta is preparing to attend Willamette university this fall.

Carroll Bennet was appointed as school clerk at the board meeting held Monday after the election, succeeding Robert Marvin, who resigned at the end of the school year.

Mr and Mrs Kenneth Kelso and children are here to visit with his sister, Mrs Arthur Christanson and family.

Last week Merrill Oveson found the grain pretty good over Gilliam and Morrow counties with some exceptions. All of it will be cut at a profit, he says.

Lt. and Mrs N. W. Frees Jr and infant daughter arrived last Friday from Salem to visit her parents. Mr and Mrs Giles French. They are on a month's vacation from Florida where he is stationed as a navy flier and instructor. His father, N. W. Frees, brought them from Salem and spent the week end fishing.

Clem Eslinger, accompanied by two other horsemen, was here Sunday with a saddle horse or two for which he was seeking sale. He lives at Hillsboro.

Wendell Balsiger, manager of the Moro Grain Growers, was elected manager of the North Pacific Grain Managers at the meeting held Monday at Spokane.

Mr and Mrs Charley Powell left last Friday for LaGrande to spend Father's day with his son Marion. From there they expected to go on to Spokane and then into Canada for a short trip. Mrs Glenna Hansen of Goldendale and her sister, Mrs Paul Stout of Parkdale were here Sunday to visit friends and attend the picnic. Donald Martin is home from the Mayo clinic and reports that the doctors there told him to quit working, and that it was worth the trip to get such good advice. Marvin Miller was in town Saturday visiting with old acquaintances.

Mrs A. J. Brown and daughter, Jean were in Moro from Shaniko Wednesday visiting with relatives.

Mrs Ronald Powell returned from Portland the last of this week after spending some time attending a meeting of the Eastern Star and having some dental work done. Mr and Mrs Roy Powell from The Dalles stayed on the ranch with young Robert Roy.

Beverly Martin came Tuesday night to spend part of the summer here visiting her grandparents, Mr and Mrs C. R. Belshee.

Edwin Balsiger returned Wednesday from a few days visit in Freewater with his aunt and uncle, Mr and Mrs Wayne Thompson.

Joan Eakin came home Friday from Portland here she has been in the Shrine hospital for two months undergoing an operation on her leg. She was queen of the Shrine hospital during the Rose Festival and Queen Georgene crowned her.
