

Storm Smashes Windows On Clodfelter Ranch

Sherman County was hit by an early rain and hail storm Monday afternoon about 2:30 when hail stones as large as golf balls and the smallest ones the size of marbles damaged wheat and barley crops. The wind broke the Donald Clodfelter house where almost all broken windows were in the Grass Valley district that had crops damaged.

Mr. Clodfelter, Arzell Lemley, Ben Brown, Ben Payne, Paul Wilson, Ralph Rust, Bud Brinkert, Millard Eakin, Art Schilling, the Manke Brothers, Norris Gilkinson, Sam Davis, Tom Coyle, Douma's on the Conroy place, Willard Barnett, Dell Olds, Bob King and Ken Kee. Some had hail insurance but the majority did not. Some of them were hauled out last year in June.

This reckless driver and his passengers were speeding through a thickly populated area of dozens of people. Fortunately they were under control on a medium curve and slammed into a gasoline pump. The driver was killed after a few minutes in the hospital. Speeding is a serious violation in a busy town, and aroused public indignation at this time.
