

Fred Misener First At Fatal Wreck

Fred Misener was returning from Fossil Tuesday night by way of Clarno when he was first to arrive at the wreck which took the life of Paul Smith, employed at the Helyer ranch near Kent, and injured an elder man named Simons. The two were returning from Fossil in Simons' truck, a used army vehicle. Smith asked to drive at the top of the hill leading down into Pine creek and the truck got away from him and overturned pinning Smith beneath it where he died in a few minutes. Simons with a broken arm was entirely unable to move the truck.

Kenneth Zachary, Manager

She's a good party-line neighbor, too

Yes, whether it's a matter of sharing flowers... or a pet recipe... or a party-lide, neighborliness is simply being thoughtful and considerate of others. These days, to provide telephone service to more people, there are more party lines than ever before. When you share a line, you can earn genuine appreciation from your telephone neighbors by remembering—

Five Golden Rules for party-line neighbors

- Space your calls instead of making an extended series of them... and talk only as long as necessary.
- If yours is an emergency call, and the line is in use, explain the circumstances to the person using the line.
- If you are calling from a dial telephone, always make certain the line is clear before you dial.
- Ask your youngsters not to monopolize the telephone.
- Replace the receiver properly when you finish your call.

Thank you!
