

Soft Roads Make Travel Difficult

Farmers are having to stay pretty close this week because the roads are not solid enough to permit travel. Each day sees more of them in town and with a day or two of wind all of them can get out again. The Bob Platt jeep made it Wednesday but was stuck more than once.

Mr and Mrs Giles French left Thursday for Eugene to attend the annual conference of newspapermen held in conjunction with the University of Oregon journalism school. Presidential aspirant Harold Stassen is to be one of the speakers at the conference.

A drivers license examiner will be on duty in Moro, Thursday, February 26, 1948 at the courthouse between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m.

The county court met Wednesday to discuss the presentation it will make to the legislative interim committee next March 21. A new road grader was ordered to replace the Adams grader now in use.

Bill Bardenhagen is again working for the Moro Lumber & Fuel company after a sedge of the flu.

Mr and Mrs Henry Barnum went to Walla Walla last week and returned with a new green Studebaker.

Carrell Bennett made a trip to Portland the first of the week.

Mr and Mrs D. L. Belshe of Hood River were here Tuesday to look after his farming operations east of town.

Roy Belshe left Tuesday afternoon for Portland to remain a week or ten days before coming back to superintend some farming.

Among those home from college over the week-end were Robert Hoskinson and Alan Pinkerton from OSC. and Bill Platt from EOCE at La Grande.

Mr and Mrs Collis Moore and David, Mr and Mrs Darwin Van Gilder and Mr and Mrs Giles French, Mr and Mrs Art Christenson and Diane, Evelyn Kirkelle, Vic Jones and Carl Zeigler attended the ski jumping exhibition at Multopor hill near Government Camp last Sunday.

Mr and Mrs Mike Mulick were in Portland the first of the week.

Mr and Mrs Lawrence Kaseberg and children stayed at the Foss home the last of the week because the roads into their place west of Wasco were not passable for a car.

Mr and Mrs Jay Price returned to North Bonneville last Friday after spending ten days here during the storm. They came originally to celebrate Mr. Price's birthday and were guests of Mr and Mrs E. E. Barnum.

Report from the The Dalles hospital is that Mrs May Moore is recovering from her recent illness although slowly.

McCULLOUGH MACNAB WEDDING HELD

King Winter spread a carpet of white and wore a mantle of ermine for the important wedding of the week, that of Roseanna Macnab, daughter of Mr and Mrs Alexander Macnab, of The Dalles and Russell Kenneth McCullough of Burns, which was an event of February 7, at two o'clock, in St. Peter's Catholic church in The Dalles. The beautiful and impressive double ring ceremony was read by Reverend John Roden, before a flower banked altar of yellow daffodils and baskets of pink and white snapdragons and ferns.

Mrs Kathleen Nelson sang "Ave Maria" before the ceremony, accompanied at the piano by Mrs George Borgeson, who played the incidental music and wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her brother, Robert Macnab, the bride was gowned in heavy white rayon faille, made with sweetheart neckline, gathered bodice and a full white skirt with large bustle bow. Long white gloves were worn, and a white prayer book with an orchid showered with white satin ribbons was carried. Her finger tipped double tulle veil was held by a wreath of orange blossoms and an heirloom lace handkerchief which belonged to Mrs Emma Carlisle and was given especially for the occasion. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift from the groom. Her maid of honor was a former friend, Miss Martha Campbell of Lone Rock, whose frock was in light blue faille made on same lines as the bride's dress. She wore blue lace gloves and carried a fan bouquet of yellow tulips. Her shoulder length veil was blue tulle held in place by a blue and silver wreath.

and topped by the traditional figurines, which stood on a table covered in lace. After a short wedding trip to Portland, the couple will be at home in Burns.
