Wasco Wins From Kinzua 6-3

Wasco continued to lead the Wheat-Timber league by defeating the Kinzua team at Wasco by a 6-3 score Sunday in a well played game.

Jensen's pitching was a large factor in Wasco's win as he struck out the Kinzua batters almost at will except in the sixth when he allowed several hits and three runs. Greene for Kinzua was generally effective although his support permitted most of the runs.

The game was entined in the seventh when Denton, Kinzua first baseman, enraged over the second of two close decisions at the plate by Umpire Nisbet, tackled the umpire. A free-for-all was averted by calmer players and after some words the Kinzua players resumed play. Wasco scored in the first, again in the fifth and brought in two more in the eighth to tie up the game.

Wasco draws a bye for next Sunday in the seven club league and then goes to Ione on June 6.

Rufus Grange met in regular session Thursday night with Master George Fox in the chair. Seventeen members answered roll call. S. A. Wilson reported a unit bought for the rest rooms, and is now at the hall ready to be installed. The building committee are to set a date for all grangers to get together for a clean-up and to cut the grass. D. D. Williams reported that a new scout master should be appointed as he is soon leaving, and also see that the Boy Scouts got to summer camp. R. T. Dingle, lecturer's program was on Dr. James E. West, the head of the Boy Scouts, who died May 16, 1948, and who gave 32 years of his life to scout work, the scouts now numbering eleven million. Lecturer also gave a brief on Father Flannigan who died at the age of 61 at Berlin, Germany, where he was on a Youth Movement. Father Flannigan borrowed $90 back in December 10, 1917, and started the large project it is today.
