YOU WON'T LIKE IT
 In one of those street corner conversations in which everyone deprecates present conditions with high prices, high wages, shortages and all the rest of it, a newcomer to the group commented on the conclusion that it had to be stopped by saying, "You won't like that either."
 He's probably right.
 There is certainly little satisfaction in being unable to obtain the usual goods or services; there is no fun in having to pay inflated prices for anything bought and there is much concern over the non-productivity of some labor. Yet the reverse of all this wouldn't be a pleasure.
 Everybody seems able to buy more beefsteak this year than last, at least more of it is bought. The same goes for nearly everything else. While some classes of workers are pinched between the millstones of low wages and high prices they are in the minority. Nearly everyone is rich beyond their wildest dreams and a five dollar bill is held in no more regard than a one dollar bill back in 1933.
 One might observe that we are merely spending our summer's wages before Christmas and they might be right. But when they are spent there will be little satisfaction with the conditions that will prevail.
 When men worked for a dollar per day there was little complaint about the hours. There were lots of men. But there were few employers and what few there were had little money to spend. There is likely a relationship between the two but most men would rather be an employer at $2 per hour than an employe at $1 per day. One may lead to the other—we wouldn't know.

This newspaper is not numbered among those who believe that the present tendency is going to continue forever. History teaches that economic conditions rise and fall in fairly regular periods without let or hincrance from mere man. There has never been a major war that was not followed by a depression although it might be delayed as much as five years. The secondary depression after wars is usually the worst and it may not come for a long time.
 The point is that when the big drop does come there is going to be more complaint than is now heard and for a better reason.
 Sowing the wind is really quite a lot of fun and that's what we're doing. Reaping the whirlwind is sad business indeed.

REPORTS
 The second report of county officers is published in this issue.
 The semi-annual reports of clerk and treasurer are of utmost importance to anyone who would like to understand county business. And understanding government on the local level is the best thing that can be done to preserve our system.
 Sherman county reports are good ones. They are complete and detailed so as to be easily understood.
 From the clerk's report, for instance, one can learn that of the $3000 appropriation budgeted for weed control $705.26 was used for that purpose and the remainder used to pay road labor wages; that the $12,000 budgeted for wages was too small and actually $19,775 was spent, which will surely cause a increase in that item next spring. Of the $5000 sum set up for new machinery only $3751 was so used, the remainder going for wages.
 The actual amounts spent for every fund is shown and some of it is information every citizen should know.
 The treasurer's report has at least one surprising item. Justice of Peace R. O. Scott has turned in $2849.75 in fines of which $2,047.75 went to the road fund, quite a little item to come from highway travelers for use of rural road travelers. The special road tax fund had $13,332.50 July 1 which means it was about two-thirds spent. More will come this November. The county is down to its last $1000 war bond.
 It is public money and public business.

TAX REHEARING

Decision of the state supreme court to permit a rehearing on the much discussed tax case involving the use of state income tax surpluses for general legislative appropriation is heartening to those who felt that the original decision of the court would reduce voter confidence in elections on tax matters.
 The fact that there is going to be a rehearing may not mean a change in opinion among the judges, but may be an effort to give every opportunity to the opponents to be heard. That, in itself, is a good thing. The court has been kept in session most of the summer because of the tax case and the decision of the members to spend another week or more in difficult discussion speaks for the importance of the case.

COMMUNISTS

The communists do a lot of complaining about our government and absolutely none about their own. They don't dare.
 Perhaps the cheapest expenditure we could make would be to charter a ship and take communists over to Russia. We did that once with Big Bill Hayward and a communistic woman whose name does not come easily to the finger tips. They didn't like it.
 A few years under communist rule is a cure for communists.

One might judge from the past seven crop years that the amount of acres in crop had little to do with total yield and that new government programs would of necessity have to be based on a another factor than acreage.

In Other Days

From the Observer, Aug. 9, 1929
 The dance in the new Legion hall at Kent was a success. They took in over $400.
 Fred Hennagin had his Buick sedan stolen on the streets of Wasco Saturday night and it was wrecked at 60 miles per hour a little later.
 J. F. Foss and family have returned from an auto trip which took them over the McKenzie pass and to the Oregon beaches.
 Mrs Robert Hoskinson and son Robert Eugene, came home from the hospital Sunday.

From the G. V. J. Aug. 8, 1949 Mrs Thompson arrived home last week from overseas.
 A new time card shows the train leaving Portland at 9 a. m. and getting to Grass Valley at 2:50. The morning train comes down at 9:10.
 Harvest is in full swing with wheat making from 8 to 12 sacks.
 At Moro a committee is deciding on a location for a new hotel. If built on the Blue barn corner the Farmers State Bank will build on the old site.

 Messers Barnum and Atwood attended the W. W. M. meeting in The Dalles using Mr Barnum's Cadillac which made the trip in 2:45 hours.
 Judge Littlefield and Jay Bowerman of Portland, were here last week to try to remove the locked gates from the Twoby Bros road west of Grass Valley.
 They did from a legal standpoint.
 L. L. Peetz threshed wheat last week that averaged 12 sacks to the acre, all No 1.

John Peugh Dies In California

Mrs Ted Everett
 John Peugh, a former Sherman county resident, passed away at his home at Fair Oaks, California, July 29th. John Henry Peugh was born on a farm six miles from Walla Walla, Wn., February 1, 1876, and came to what is now Sherman county, March 1880. He later farmed at Wasco and Condon, and later moved to California.
 He is survived by his wife, Mabel; three sons, Vern, Linn, and Orlo; one daughter, Arlel; one sister, Nettie of Long Beach, California; two brother, Charles of Oswego and Tom of Wasco.

Mr and Mrs A. E. Gardner of Forest Grove were week end guests of Mrs Alice J. Lamborn.
 A potluck dinner was held Sunday, July 25, at the home of Mrs Sadie Rich. Those present were Mr and Mrs Elmer Hill, Mr and Mrs Elvris Rich and sons, Mr and Mrs A. A. Van Gilder and son, and Mr and Mrs S. A.
 Burke and daughter of Longview, Washington.

Mrs Emma Shearer and grandson Billie Williams, returned from Salem Monday night where Mrs Shearer went to see her sister, Mrs Carrie Morrow, who is ill. Tuesday, Mrs Shearer and Billie went to Willowdale to see Billie's parents, Mr and Mrs Max Williams.

Mr and Mrs Charles Fulton went to Portland Thursday and returned Friday, where they met Mrs Marvin Fallsbury and daughter Charlene who flew up from San Francisco, Calif. Mrs Fallsbury is Mrs Fulton's niece.
 Mr and Mrs Jim Brooks of 25 at the home of Mr and Mrs O.
 Hermiston spent Sunday July W. Barnett.

Mrs Ed Feldman was called to Vancouver, Wn., last Tuesday due to the death of her cousin, Dr. Joseph Roane. She returned home Monday.
 Mr and Mrs Laurence Funk went to Multnomah Saturday night to visit at the home of their son in law and daughter, Mr and Mrs T. L. Whipple. They returned Sunday evening bringing their granddaughter Kaye Whipple home for a week while her parents are on their vacation.

CARD OF THANKS
 We wish to take this means of thanking our neighbors and friends for helping put out the
