From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Farming" Versus
"Ranching"

Talked to some editors who run my column in their papers—in states where there's mostly cattle and sheep raising—about the differences there might be between farming and ranching.

And they told me: "Joe, there's no real difference between cattlemen and farmers. We make our living from the land like your folks do; we have the same 4-H Clubs and Granges; the same problems of prices and marketing.

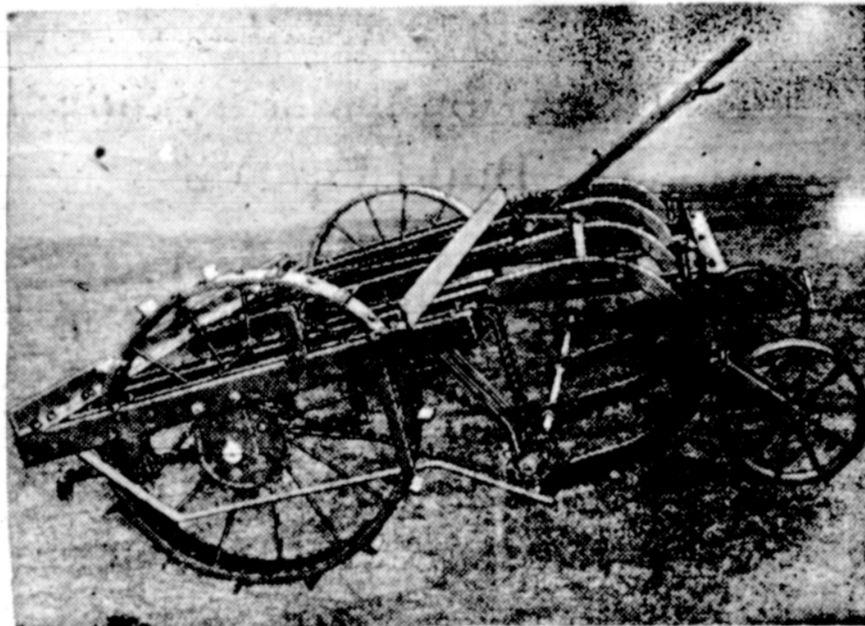

"When it comes to recreation, we have the same liking to get together now and then for a barbecue and a friendly glass of beer."

And from where I sit, that about sums it up. Ranchers may have different names for things or grow different crops. But all over America folks who work the land share those common traits of hard work, sober moderation, and good fellowship, whether they're growing cattle for beef, or barley for good American beer and ale.

7A Model weighs approximately 1200 pounds. Works better under difficult conditions than lighter machines.

Every machine can be assembled as a right hand or left hand drive machine. Very strong, heavy goosenecks.

The transport, weighing nearly three hundred pounds is the right distance behind the revolving rod. Tiller wheel assemblies work perfectly and last longer.

The straight chain drive on Cheney Weeders is not excelled by any other kind of drive. There is plenty of clearance for stubble and weeds.

For nearly forty years Cheney Weeders have satisfied farmers who want the best. Cheney's are strong, convenient and dependable.

R. H. McKean & Son of Wasco, Oregon have been distributors of Cheney Weeder products ever since these valuable implements were first invented. The Cheney Weeder Company also builds the Cheney SOIL SAVER plow which is recognized as a very successful tillage machine to work the ground properly and to hold it in place.

McKean & Son carry a good stock of Cheney's products and can supply you immediately with these well built and profitable implements. See them at

Let INTERNATIONAL CRAWLERS Solve Your Power Problems

Whether your acreage is very large or comparatively small, there is an International Crawler to fit your power requirements. From the compact TD-6 and TD-9 to the larger TD-14 and TD-18, International Diesels give you more pulling power and better traction. Better balance gears Internationals to the ground.

If you prefer gasoline-powered tractors, you have a choice of the International T-6 or T-9. They're built to the same fine standards as International Diesels. For rugged dependability, for thousands of work-hours with a bare minimum of maintenance, your best bet is an International Crawler.

Stop in and see us about your farm power requirements. We'll be glad to give you complete information about International Crawlers.

"THIS IS LONG DISTANCE"

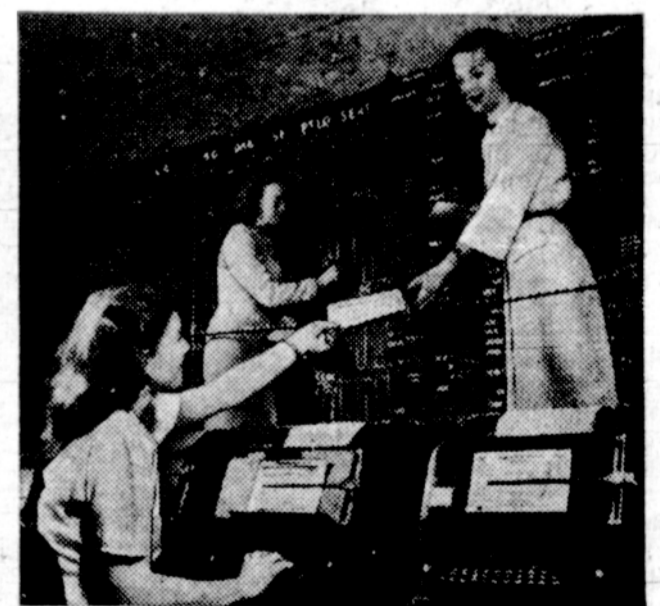

How telephone operators route and time your calls

1. Perhaps you've wondered how your long distance calls usually go through so quickly... even to small, far-away places. The routing operator is one reason. A long distance operator has just asked her the route to Pilot Grove, Missouri. From her special book she finds it and flashes back... "MX Kansas City, TC Boonville."

2. When the call is answered, thousands of miles away, the operator placing the call slips her "toll ticket" into this device... known as a calculagraph. When you begin talking, she moves a lever to stamp the time on the ticket. When you hang up, a signal tells her to stamp it again... thus recording the length of your call.

3. Your call's roadway, to Pilot Grove—or anywhere—is kept open in this Traffic Control Center. Should major trouble occur on one route, the Center must find another to carry the calls. This is just part of our service job... making it possible for you to call across town, or across country, when you wish, as often as you wish.

4. When you make a telephone call, you hire a mighty servant to work for you at small cost. And that servant is more useful than ever. In the past ten years, the number of telephones on the Coast has about doubled. We're hard at it to provide more and better service for more people. And each new telephone added makes every telephone that much more valuable.
