

Deer Hunters Leave To Ready Camps Early

Harry Kunsman, Free Crews, Ted von Borstel and Dell Olds left Tuesday morning for the Blue Mountains near La Grande to be on hand when the deer come out to feed on the morning of October 1. Many others have dug out their red hats, showing symptoms of anxiety over deer.

Linden Mersinger left last week to continue his studies at OSC.

Mr and Mrs H. H. Nichols of Cecil were back to Sherman county to have a look at the fair.

Mr and Mrs Earl Rehr came up from Gresham to see the Sherman County Fair and visit friends in Moro.

Kent hunters are out in the hills this week end trying to get a deer before the urge to come home and seeding becomes too pressing.

Francis Lambert, ex-county treasurer of Multnomah county, and at present vice-president of the First National Bank stopped in Moro Wednesday evening on business and stayed for dinner with the D. A. Van Gilders before leaving for Condon.

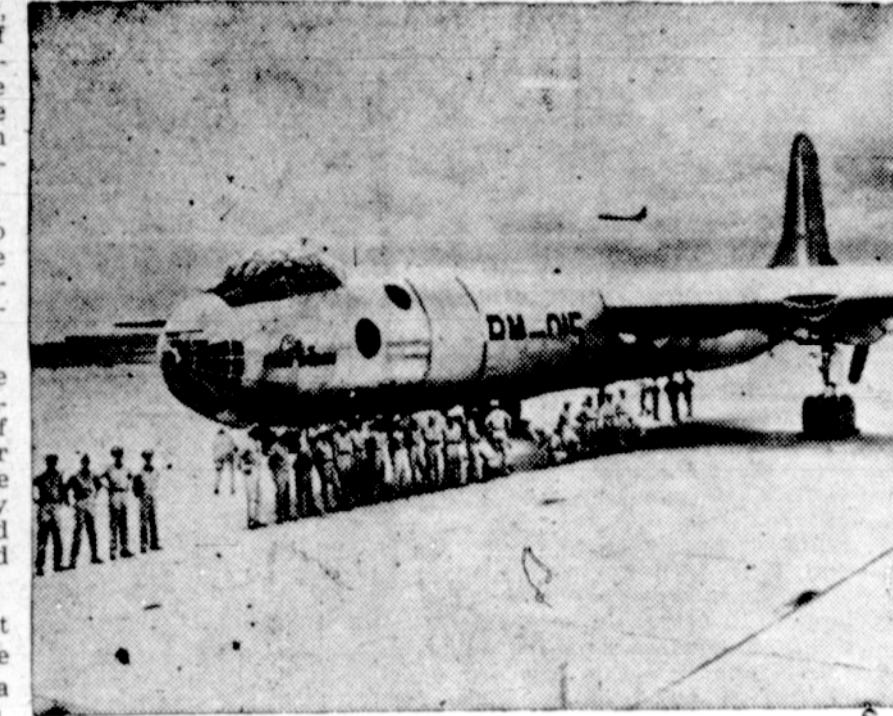

Attending the PMA conference in Arlington Monday and Tuesday or both were LeRoy Wright, Merrill Overson, Ralph Busse, William Powell, Ormond

Hilderbrand, Paulen Kaseberg, Floyd Root and Curt Tom of Sherman county. Soil conservation took up much of the time the first day and brought the most public discussion although the meeting was called to prepare a program for 1949.

Ken Rinke, professional photographer who is working on the Columbia river around The Dalles, was a visitor in Moro Wednesday.

Initiation of freshmen by the high school students brought indulgent smiles from occupants of street corners Wednesday. For imaginative "get-ups" adults are no match for children, resumably the initiation was a success and freshmen will now be permitted the run of class rooms.

Moro's high school team went to Fossil Saturday last to engage the boys from that school in a football game. The field naturally, has recently been graded and the Friday rain had made it very soft with the result that neither team could score and neither could move much forth of back. Moro did get to the one yard line once, spectators report but the mud was too thick to permit a score. Thursday of this week the locals engaged the Paposes of The Dalles in the green turf of home.

BEHEMOTH OF THE UPPER AIR . . . They just keep getting bigger and bigger. This is the first combat model of the B-36, largest land-based bomber in the world, as it was delivered to the U. Mr and Mrs Sam Brock returned last week from a vacation trip to Great Falls, Montana, where they went to visit their son Clinton and family. On their way home they stopped for a couple of days to visit with a sister of Sams who lives in Missoula Montana. The Brocks said they didn't have much trouble getting enough gas to get home on until they got back in Oregon when several of the pumps were out of gas, while others had gas to ration.

George Fox drew a successful last week. The coyote which was beaded with his rifle on a coyote a male was thought to be a young one, and it was shot south of their old home place on the break of the John Day.

BLEACHERITE . . . It's a far cry from the cloistered dignity of the United Nations to a soda pop spree in the stands of the Olympic games, but Trygve Lie, U. N. secretary-general, seems happy about it.

MILLIONTH
Postwar telephone added
How we've put in telephones almost three times as fast as ever before in the West

1. Here is Ashley Stone of Sacramento, California, whose daddy and mother got the millionth telephone we've added since V-J Day. To make this gain, we've actually had to install three million telephones . . . for many of our customers have moved their homes and businesses. Telephones we serve are now at an all-time high . . . over 3,630,000.

2. We've literally built a city spread over the West . . . hundreds of new buildings and major additions. New wire has been strung . . . new cables laid . . . an astounding total of three million miles. And we're rushing still more construction — half a million dollars worth, every day — to meet the public demand for service.

3. An amazing amount of new equipment of all kinds has gone to work. We've filled three times as many orders as were waiting on V-J Day. To add these million telephones, we had to get $400,000,000 of new money from investors. Orders still pour in, and our job is not yet done. But we're working at it mighty hard.

4. Millions of new working dollars . . . needed to extend and improve service . . . must come, not from telephone bills, but from thousands of people who put their savings to work in the telephone business. To attract these working dollars, we must pay a reasonable amount for their use. This depends on the sale of our services at fair and adequate prices.
