Sherman County Fair Sept. 15-18

HORSES! HORSES!

Here come the horses! Yes, Horses! There'll be lots of them at the Sherman County Fair. On Friday especially there will be horses. Everybody likes horses, except a few who are afraid of them. Some like 'em bucking, some like 'em running and others like them anyway. The riding clubs of this area are going to be in charge of the Friday program and present a horsemanship, like the ones held at all large shows nowadays, state fairs, P. L., etc.

There's a lot of good horses in Sherman county and more in Klickitat county and Wasco county and Gilliam county and there'll be here to show on Friday September 16. There'll be Palominos, Arabians, Quarter horses, Thoroughbreds and some only slightly removed from the cayuse strain. Remember them; little, ewe-necked, irregularly colored, white-eyed, tricky, some times treacherous, but tough. They'd carry a man all day and kick his hat off at night. In early days being tough made up for a lot of things. Well, the horses will be different from the old cayuses. They will race and perform and bow their sleek necks and toss their manes and the riders will be dressed up, too, in bright clothes like on a holiday or feast day—and it will be that. There's only one day of horse show this year. The program is in this ad. It is arranged for speed. There is plenty of quality and quantity for a whole day and it is scheduled for two hours.
