Wayne Morse really works for Oregon

Look at the things he has done for Oregon: Aggressively supported flood control, power development, river and harbor projects, the Astoria Mooring Basin and Coos Bay Harbor development. Helped put through conversion of Camp White to Veterans Demilitary Hospital, and helped secure allocation of ammonium sulphate for the Salem plant. . . put through the fibert marketing agreement. . . secured removal of the ruinous OPA policy regarding Oregon soft lambs. . . worked in team with the rest of the Oregon delegation. These are only a few of a long list of accomplishments that represent thorough preparation and long fighting to get for Oregon what is best for it and the nation.

He is a member of the powerful Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, a member of the Senate Committee on Armed Services. In the 80th Congress, he was chairman of the subcommittee on Veterans Affairs and guided all veteran hospitals, disabled veterans and veteran benefits. That Oregon should surrender its place of influence in molding national policy affecting public Welfare, national defense and world peace is unthinkable.

If you keep a list of out-of-town numbers, you'll find calls are put through much faster—often in 30 seconds.

TIPS FOR TOP LONG DISTANCE SERVICE

Ways to save money and minutes on out-of-town calls

1. Reduced rates begin at six in the evening . . . and between six and seven is a good time to call. Long Distance rates are low. And nights and Sundays are a particularly fine bargain. For $2.00 or less (plus tax) you can make a station call anywhere in the country. After the first three minutes, time is charged by the minute . . . not as another three-minute period.
2. For best service, place your call with the operator like this: First, tell her the name of the town you're calling . . . then the telephone number (or the name and address). Next, if it's a person call, give her the name of the one you want to reach. And if you've made notes ahead of time, you'll find you can say as much in three minutes as in an average letter.
3. When you call across the country or across town, you're using a service that's a finer value than ever before. With your telephone, you can reach twice as many people as 10 years ago. You can call more of the people you want to call . . . more can call you. And at rates that make your telephone a real bargain.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains
