Butchers Helping With OSC Study On Meat Production

Agricultural economists with Oregon State college experiment station are planning to measure the amount, kind and type of meat that is set on the state's dinner tables.

Purpose of the study, says C. W. Vrooman, OSC department of agricultural economics staff member, is to establish production guides for use by the livestock industry. To measure total meat consumption, members of the department are calling on retail butchers asking for 1950 whole sale purchase invoice figures. About 15 per cent of the retail merchants in the state will be visited, Vrooman said.

Upwards of 60 butchers are already cooperating in the study. Individual reports are kept confidential.

Similar studies of per capita meat consumption are being conducted in California and Washington in order to obtain a complete meat consumption picture for the region. This study is one phase of an 11 western state livestock marketing research program carried out under the research and marketing administration.

Retail meat merchants also stand to gain from the study, Vrooman said in pointing out that the completed study should give some indication of seasonal consumer tastes and demands. Production, he added, could be adjusted to balance consumer wants after amounts required by meat shoppers are definitely established. Thus, a more stable supply of the kind and quality of meat needed to fit market needs will be available.

Figures requested include beef, veal, pork and lamb. Wholesale figures only are desired. Conversion of the carcass figures into retail cuts is a part of the study being carried out at the College, Vrooman explained.

Assisting Vrooman in the study is Morton Rosenblum, graduate assistant. He is carrying out a considerable portion of the retail store contacts.

Beginning Saturday, the weather here in northern Sherman county has just been ideal with the sun pouring down some warmth. The weekend was was quite a contrast to the middle of the week when the wind blew some gusty cold drafts that were very penetrating.

Farmers here will soon be working in the fields. Before the last cold spell, Curtis Neal reported plowing about 350 acres of land. The farmers using commercial fertilizer are putting it on the green wheat now.

'51 CHRYSLER WINS SPEED TITLE AT 100 MPH

Tom McCahill, featured automotive writer for "Mechanix Illustrated" (center), receives trophy emblematic of the 1951 official unmodified stock-car record from Bill France, President of the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing. The record of 100.13 miles per hour was made at Daytona Beach, Fla., in a Chrysler New Yorker four-door sedan, powered by the new 180-horsepower V-8 FirePower engine. McCahill entered the trials on the spur of the moment with a car that had been driven only 400 miles and that had been given no special tune-up. W. Brewster Shaw, Jr., Chrysler dealer in Daytona Beach, shown standing at the right, loaned him the vehicle, taking it off the showroom floor.

Mrs. Barager is well known here and is a sister of Mrs. Dick Yocum, Mrs. Lean Jensen and Curt Tom of Rufus.

Cattlemen Asked To Cooperate In Federal T. B. Tests

Sherman County TB accreditation for beef cattle expired last fall, T. W. Thompson, county extension agent reported this week.

Federal rules stipulate counties must have accreditation to enable interstate shipment of beef cattle. Reactors must not exceed two tenths of one percent to enable accreditation, states Thompson.

T.B. tests will be made by federal veterinarians at no expense to farmers this spring on Sherman county livestock. Ten percent of the total number of beef cattle which is around 1500 will be tested in this county.

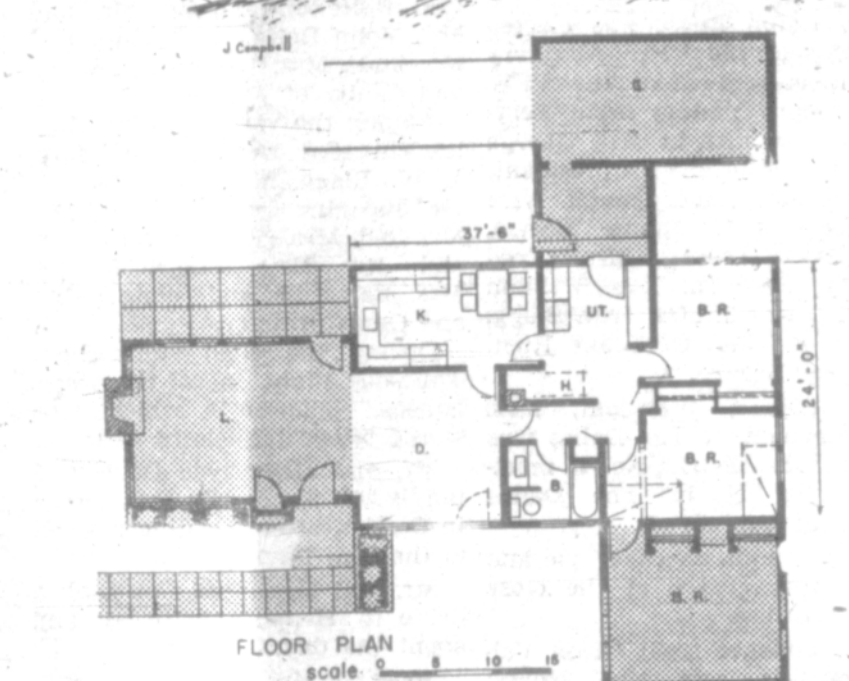

Farmers who desire to cooperate in this T.B. accreditation program should contact the county agent's office. This program comes under the supervision of the U. S. Department of agriculture. Federal veterinarians are available at all times to farmers for T. B. and Bangs tests. Re-accreditation of Sherman county should not be a great problem if cattlemen will cooperate in obtaining T. B. tests, indicated the county agent.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Roy Belshee entertained at dinner for their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Libe. Mrs. Wilson of the Dalles and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Belshee and daughters of Wasco were present. Mr. and Mrs. Libe are leaving Friday for their home in Ketchikan, Alaska, after visiting in Oregon and California since the middle of December.

Indications are that the Easter Seal sale could exceed by 20 per cent receipts of last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Johnson returned last Thursday from an extended trip through the middle western and southeastern part of the United States.
