How Bakery Dollar is Divided

Includes salesmen's pay, truck operations, advertising, etc.

Rising costs of labor involved in the manufacture and distribution of bakery products, and not higher farm prices or greater profits, are largely responsible for increases in prices of bakery products in recent years, the Senate Committee on Forestry and Agriculture reported recently. Senator Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana is chairman of the committee.

A study of operating costs and profits in the baking industry conducted by the committee revealed that baker profits after taxes in the first quarter of 1951 averaged 3.4%. On a pound loaf of bread, this would be approximately one half cent. The profit was the smallest reported in the past five years.

"Today a pound of bakery products reflects 1.8 cents higher costs for ingredients and 2.5 cents higher costs for manufacturing labor and distribution than in 1945," the report said. "The baking industry has maintained approximately the same profit ratio to total sales since 1946—three to five per cent."

"Farm products now make up a smaller proportion of the retail cost of bakery products than at any time since the end of World War I. Distribution costs have increased sharply in recent years. Packaging materials costs increased more than one-third."

Bakers are taking a steadily increasing total supply of American farm products, according to the American Bakers Association. Latest figures show that bakers are purchasing annually nearly 13 billion pounds of flour which requires 300 million bushels of wheat; three hundred million pounds of eggs, nearly 300 million pounds of milk, more than a billion pounds of shortening, two and a half billion pounds of sugar, and millions of pounds of fruit, berries and other farm products.

Sunday July 1 there will be a quarterly business meeting and a pot luck dinner at the Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Martin and Deanna, and Bud Meyers drove to Bear Springs Sunday where they met Bud's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Meyers, his sister, from Portland and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Watkins of Borning and other relatives and friends. All enjoyed a picnic dinner and visiting.

Mrs. Ross Fields and daughter, Susan, left Monday evening on the train from The Dalles for Pendleton to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lister. Ross went up Wednesday and spent the night returning Thursday with Mrs. Fields and Susan and little Steven, who had spent three weeks with his grandmother.

Mrs. L. D. Eakin and Miss Helen Wilson of The Dalles spent one day recently at the home of Mrs. Eakin's daughter, Mrs. Myrl Smith on the farm here.

Sherman chapter, OES, met at the Masonic hall Tuesday evening for its regular meeting with Mrs. Myrl Smith, worthy matron presiding. This was the last meeting until fall. Mrs. L. D. Eakin was chairman for the evening.

Mrs. Wallace May was honored as secretary for nine years and was presented and escorted to the East. She was given a fountain pen. Reports of Grand chapter were given by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Frank von Borstel and refreshments of strawberry shortcake and coffee were served at the close of the evening by Mrs. Eakin.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Keiper left some time ago for Salem where Mr. Keiper will attend summer school which began June 18.

John and Barbara Alley and Carl Schilling accompanied by friends from Moro drove to Maryhill Sunday to the museum.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Reynolds returned Wednesday from Tacoma, Wn., where they attended the funeral of his father, J. L. Reynolds at Centralia, Wn., Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Blagg had as their guest several days last week, Mrs. Fannie Gleaves of Khrk, Colorado. Her son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Roberts of Portland came Sunday and took her home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Smith and son, Lowell, were business visitors in The Dalles Saturday and had dinner with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dell Eakin.

Don't Let Scrap Waste Away, Sell It to Aid Defense, Farmers Urged

Will steel output be increased? That depends to a great extent on whether farmers move their iron and steel scrap promptly, says the Committee on Iron and Steel Scrap of American Iron and Steel Institute.

Thousands of tons of scrap—vital material in steelmaking—are idle in junk piles on farms, and some of it is wasting away, says the Committee. If farmers promptly sell this material to local scrap collectors, it will be moved to steel mills or foundries for the production of defense equipment and essential civilian items. All scrap is urgently needed—whether a few pounds, a few bushels or a ton or more.

Farmers will help themselves by the sale of the scrap and will help strengthen the United States. Each day about 2,000 carloads of purchased scrap are required by steel mills and foundries. Mills are operating at a high rate and using more scrap than ever before.

Old tools, wornout parts of tractors, trucks, cultivators and other implements; broken and discarded pieces of metal and other scrap should be taken to town and sold right away to the local scrap dealer. Every pound of scrap which comes back to steel mills helps to make two pounds of new steel, on the average. If the scrap is unusually bulky, preventing its easy transportation by the farmer, the scrap dealer can be called or the local farm agent can be asked to work out an arrangement. "Farms are one of the big sources of scrap," says the Committee. "Never have farmers had a greater stake in the nation's steel output. More scrap from farms means more steel. This vital material must not be allowed to waste away. There is no waste in the United States."
