OLD SONG SINGERS WANTED AT EUGENE

Early song folk songs of Oregon are being sought by Dr. Edmund A. Cykler, professor of music in the university. He's working on a research project to collect songs the pioneers of Oregon sang at their work and play.

Collecting them on tape, he records the songs as those who can remember them sing them. He says that one grandmother knew and sang 135 songs she remembered from her youth.

He wants not only folk songs of this country but all the songs they sang—the ones they brought from the old countries, the work songs, the dance songs, the game songs—all of them.

Persons who can aid Dr. Cykler in this project are asked to write to him at the university's school of music. He has facilities for recording these that he will take into the local communities.

Eisenhower. Ann is wearing on her head a new creation, an "I like Ike" beany and a bow tie to match. A smiling portrait of General Eisenhower is a fitting backdrop.

Call out the Reserves with a touch of your toe!

Most cars lead a double life. A good part of the time, they're running errands, taking children to school, taking women to stores, taking men to work, taking family and friends to clubs and social functions. It doesn't call for a very great output of horsepower for duties like these. But there are times when you want a car that can do vastly more, and these are the times when you'll want what this year's ROADMASTER has to offer.

Beneath its proud hood, there's a Fireball 8 Engine—a valve-in-head that can let loose 170 lively horsepower when needed.

And—alongside this engine—there's also an Airpower carburetor which thriftily feeds fuel and air through two smaller-than-usual barrels for normal driving—which means that you now use less gas at 40 than you'd formerly use at 30.

But there are two barrels in reserve—waiting for you to call them into action—and they let loose a soaring rush of power that sinks your shoulders back into the seat cushion, swoops you past a truck—out of a tight spot—up a hill—sets your speedometer needle to registering added miles more than twice as fast as your watch can tick off the seconds.

This is an experience you certainly should know firsthand.

You should also know how Buick's Power Steering* provides a helping hand in slow-motion maneuvers—lets you keep the "feel" of the car in straightaway driving.

And just for good measure, this '52 ROADMASTER also has the biggest brakes of any postwar Buick—the greatest trunk space since spare tires moved off the front fenders—a warning light that glows when the parking brake is set—and to top it all, the smartest interior fabrics that Buick has ever offered.

When are you coming in to look this distinguished performer over? We urge you to make it soon.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Optional at extra cost on ROADMASTER only.

Sure is true for '52
