Know your OREGON MILK CONTROL LAW

"You mean to tell me Milk Control holds prices up?"

Yes

The dairy industry is under more complete regimentation in Oregon than in any other state. The main purpose of the Oregon Milk Control Law is to hold prices up. To do this it gives the Milk Administration authority to set prices at the farm, wholesale and retail levels. It is unlawful to sell milk below these set prices, but Milk Control sets no upper limit on prices.

The effect of this regimentation on YOU is that well managed businesses that keep their costs down are not permitted to pass their savings on to the customer. Such regulations protect high-cost operators, and actually require low cost operators to take a larger profit than is necessary.

In other words, you have no chance to get as low a price as the best merchandisers can afford to give you.

Shop Safeway... for fine foods at everyday low prices

The questions and answers below show some other ways in which Oregon Milk Control affects YOU.

Q. Does Milk Control discourage competitive distribution of milk?
 A. YES. No one can enter the milk business if the Administrator says such new competition might disturb existing distributors.

Q. Does Milk Control allow you a lower price when you carry milk home yourself?
 A. NO. You pay the higher costs of door-to-door delivery whether you use this service or not.

Q. Does Milk Control limit the richness of milk?
 A. YES. The richness (butterfat content) of milk sold in each price range is limited by the rulings of the Milk Administrator.

Q. Does the Oregon Milk Control Law regulate sanitary conditions?
 A. NO. It has absolutely nothing to do with the sanitation, health inspection, cleanliness, or the purity of milk.

Q. Does Milk Control limit the supply of Grade A milk?
 A. YES. To sell Grade A milk for your use a farmer must first get permission from the Administrator. If he gets permission (and many do not), he is given a quota. If he produces more he must often sell the surplus at a lower price for cheese or other factory uses.
