SHARING THE SPOTLIGHT as the National Champions in the sixth annual "Make It Yourself with Wool" Home Sewing Contest, Miss Shirley Bostron (left) and Miss Connie Yoshimura, both from Colorado, show off the fashions which won them Grand Prizes in competition with the top winners from 12 other states. Miss Bostron, the 16-year-old Junior Class winner from Atwood, will receive a $300 scholarship award presented by Pendleton Woolen Mills. Miss Yoshimura, who is 29 and resides in Denver, will receive a similar award, presented by the Forstmann Woolen Company, as Senior Class winner.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Two young Colorado women, chosen as their state's champions in the art of sewing at home, have won top honors in the National Finals of the sixth annual "Make It Yourself with Wool" Contest.

Their selection as National Champions in the contest's Junior and Senior Class competitions came after they had joined 24 other state champions in modeling their own creations in the National Fashion Show, annual climax of the $25,000 prize contest. This event, held December 8 in Chicago, brought together the "Best in the West" in the field of home sewing.

The Grand Prize winners are Miss Connie Yoshimura of Denver, the Senior Champion, and Miss Shirley Bostron of Atwood, the Junior Champion.

Miss Yoshimura won her title with a three-piece ensemble of her own design, which combines a coat of cafe-au-lait poodle cloth with a two-piece suit of golden brown wool. The coat has a portrait collar and loose-cut, cuffed sleeves, while the suit is trimly cut, buttoning high to the neck. A total of 105 hours of designing and sewing time were required in its making.

Miss Bostron's entry was a full-cut coat of black and white nubby boucle, with jet black velvet trim. It required 70 hours of work.

The contest is held each year throughout the 13 states of the Far West to build interest in the art of home sewing with virgin wool fabrics. Young women from 14 through 17 compete in the Junior Class, while those from 18 through 22 enter the Senior Class.

State champions are selected through area and state competitions, and receive, as their awards, the chance to appear in the National Fashion Show and to compete for National Awards. The show is held each year in conjunction with the annual convention of the National Wool Growers Association.

Travel expenses for the 28 finalists in this year's contest were paid by F. W. Woolworth Company, and the young women were guests on a four-day tour of Chicago arranged by the event's sponsors, the Women's Auxiliary of the National Wool Growers Association and The Wool Bureau.

Want to make some extra money?

Now your maturing Series E Bonds
can earn interest
10 more years at 3%!

That's right!

YOUR TEN-YEAR-OLD United States Series E Defense Bonds, maturing this year, can continue to earn interest for ten more years at an average of 3% per year, compounded semiannually.

And there is nothing for you to do to get this extra earning power for your Bonds. Just hold on to them as you have been doing!

The extended earning period applies to all Bonds—those you already own and those you're now investing in. And every Bond you invest in now starts earning interest sooner and matures earlier—at 3%.

You may still redeem any Series E Bond two months after you get it; but smart people are holding their Bonds.

Are you investing in better-paying Defense Bonds regularly through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work? 7½ million Americans are. They know that it's one sure way to save. If you're not already one of those wise Americans, join the Payroll Savings Plan today. Or ask at your bank about the convenient Bond-A-Month Plan.

3 new money-making opportunities for you!

New Series H, J, and K Defense Bonds pay 2.76% to 3%!

If you want to get the interest on your Bonds in the form of current income, or if you want to invest more than the annual limit for E Bonds, ask at your bank for descriptive folders about these new Bonds:

Series H. A new current income Bond, available in denominations of $500 to $10,000. Sold at par. Matures in 9 years 8 months and pays an average 3% interest per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semiannually by Treasury check. Annual limit, $20,000.

Series J. A new 12-year appreciation Bond, available in denominations of $25 to $100,000. Sold at 72% of par value. Pays 2.76% compounded semiannually if held to maturity. Annual limit, $200,000. Issue price jointly with Series K Bonds.

Series K. A new 12-year current-income Bond in denominations of $500 to $100,000. Pays interest semiannually by Treasury check at the rate of 2.76% per annum. Sold at par. Annual limit, $200,000. Issue price jointly with Series J Bonds.
