The World Is His Background

Henry J. Taylor, noted economist, author and journalist, and one of radio's most established commentators, is shown in a proper setting, with the world as his background, on his return from another one of his around-the-world tours to get international background at firsthand from leaders of other nations, as well as grass-roots people everywhere.

The penetrating, accurate, complete reports which Henry J. Taylor gives his listeners on his Monday nights ABC broadcasts come as a result of years of study of the economic and political histories of our country as well as those of other countries in the world, and a keen analytical sense which can pick out the important things, and convey their full meaning and import to the public.

below specified levels. Guarantees range up to five years.

Construction of approved storage at The Dalles, Milton, Helix, North Plains, and Amity would provide 592,000 bushel additional capacity to help ease Oregon's crucial grain storage problem. Another 318,000 bushel storage space in Umatilla county has been recommended for approval under the program.

Arnold Bodtker, Portland, administrative officer of the USDA agricultural stabilization and conservation state committee, said the program announced last August was originally aimed at providing two million bushels additional storage in Oregon. Oregon warehousemen have withdrawn approved applications for one million bushel capacity.

Bodtker says cancellations and withdrawals are expected to reduce approved new facilities, nationally, from 300 million bushels to 200 million. Applications approved were received by state and county ASC committees before the September 30 deadline.

Approval was based upon the need for additional storage space for both grain and oil seeds. Teal estimates that Oregon will need storage for around eight million additional bushels including a heavy carryover and new production of barley, wheat and oats.

Rufus Personals

The Frank E. Brown unit No. 91 of the American Legion auxiliary met Monday afternoon at the Legion hall in Wasco for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. Elton Medler, president, presided at the business meeting. Although Mrs. Medler became the mother of a son James Elton born February 18, she hasn't missed a meeting.

A letter from Mrs. Ellen Siefert on civil defense was read. Mrs. Siefert urged all units to take part.

Mrs. Dewey Thomas, unit secretary, ordered an emblem seal for use of the auxiliary secretary. It was reported that the auxiliary bought and now has on hand eight tables and a hundred attractive and sturdy chairs for use in the new hall. The hall is now complete with a modern kitchen and appliances, rest rooms, and tile on the floors. The entire hall has been sealed, painted and new light fixtures put in.

The unit will celebrate the Legion birthday March 13 with a 6 o'clock p. m. dinner. The auxiliary will buy the ham for the dinner.

Some of the Legion and its auxiliaries plan to meet at the hall the Thursday before the dinner to give the floor a good cleaning. The Boy Scouts have offered to help do the cleaning.

Mrs. Lee Dehler said she would make a cake to raffie off the night of the dinner.

The members voted to send in their money to register a girl for Girls State. The unit voted to send $34.10 to child welfare for Easter outfits.

After the meeting adjourned Mrs. L. P. Haven showed slides of their trip to Hawaii during the last Christmas vacation. She also had books, pamphlets and samples of sand and rock taken from the islands.

The hostesses Mrs. Gus Hartmann, Mrs. Earl Richelderfer and Mrs. Afton McIntyre served refreshments after the meeting.

Mrs. Margaret Blau came from The Dalles and brought Mrs. Cassa Yates, Mrs. Clyde Fridley and Mrs. James Maddox, members living in The Dalles.

There was a kitchen shower for the Legion hall. Each member brought something for use in the new hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Tom entertained recently with a hobo party of some of the people living in the area. Mrs. Frank Reid received by vote the prize for woman having the best costume and Kenneth Hattrup the prize for the man with best costume.

A spaghetti supper was served buffet style. The evening was spent visiting and watching television. The guests reported a good time. Those invited were Messrs. and Mesdames James Tate, Stuart Macnab, Bill O'Brien, Don Macnab, Kenneth Hattrup, Leland Medler, Frank Reid, Bill Macnab, Joe Morris and Curtis Neal.

The Rufus Wolves had more than luck when they trounced by 22 points the Arlington Honkers when they came to Rufus Friday night for a basketball game. Arlington was ahead the first quarter 10-8. Then Rufus took the lead holding it the entire way. At the half the score was 23-18. Then Rufus slipped ahead with a 13 point difference in the third quarter, coming up to a win of 51-29. The last quarter the Honkers made but six points to Rufus 15.

George Fox Jr. was high point man for Rufus with 27 points, nearly an all time high for any game this season. Paul Blackburn and Duane Carrol each tied with nine points.

The Rufus high school students went to Wasco Saturday night to play games, and have a party afterwards. They enjoyed a nice time.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Klock and children Douglas and Patty, were weekend visitors with Mrs. Klock's parents and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morris motored to the valley recently to purchase young trees for their orchard.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams and daughters visited in Rufus Sunday.

February 18 the Camp Fire Girls had a Valentine tea in the school cafeteria in honor of their mothers. The serving table was decorated with a Valentine centerpiece, red and white packages, and two attractive Valentine cakes. Mrs. DeFigh poured at the tea table. The girls presented their mothers with red and white aprons which the girls had made. Besides the mothers the teachers, teacher's wives and sponsors were guests. The leaders Mrs. Bill O'Brien and Mrs. Allen Tom were each presented with a red apron in appreciation of all they had done for the girls.

February 11 the sponsors of the Bluebirds surprised the girls at their regular meeting with goodies for a Valentine party.

It is getting to be real nice weather and the farmers are taking advantage of it to get some needed work done. Barley is being seeded, fertilizing is being done and it will soon be time for plowing.
