An entirely new kind of motor fuel that ends forever the biggest single cause of engine trouble! Detergent-action Chevron gasolines actually clean the carburetor in every gasoline engine you have, and keep it clean! Until now, carburetors had to be cleaned or adjusted every few thousand miles, because tiny bits of soot and gum in the air entering the carburetor built up deposits that caused rough idling, gas waste, and stalling at stop lights. Now, detergent-action cleans out these deposits while your engine is running, and prevents new deposits! Try detergent-action Chevron Supreme or Chevron gasoline.

AGRI-CHEM, INC. CERTIFIED FACTORY-DIRECT DEALER FOR Brea AQUA AMMONIA

A low-cost, high-performance nitrogen fertilizer solution -- metered by the gallon -- Sold by the pound of guaranteed nitrogen -- assured peak-season supply -- easy, safe, and economical for grower (or dealer) to apply.

GROWERS OF EASTERN OREGON HAVE ASKED US:

Q. What about supply? Can I get it when I need it?

A. Brea's stations at Pasco and Umatilla have a total storage capacity of 1,150,000 gallons. We believe that answers the supply problem. Anything that can hold or haul gasoline can hold or haul Brea Aqua Ammonia.

Q. What do you mean "metered by the gallon—sold by the pound of nitrogen?"

A. It is metered by the gallon like gasoline. Invoices show gallons of solution and guaranteed pounds of nitrogen per gallon. You do not pay a cent for the treated water.

Q. You mean then to compare costs, I just figure any nitrogen material on the basis of the cost-per-pound of nitrogen applied?

A. That's right. All nitrogen fertilizers are simply nitrogen carriers. You measure the nitrogen cost per pound to buy, to store, to handle and apply—against the nitrogen delivery efficiency of the carrier in the soil.

Q. And you say that nitrogen in a water carrier works better?

A. Exactly. Nitrogen in solution handles better above ground—works better below ground—and the water's for free!

Q. How is it different? Why is it better?

A. As a liquid, Brea Aqua Ammonia takes the lift and lug out of fertilizer handling. Like gasoline, it is stored in low-cost tanks, flows through pipes and hose lines. Above ground work is done by efficient transfer pumps, which save time and dollars on delivery, fieldside handling and application. Below ground, the water carrier soaks ammonia nitrogen into soil storage. Water delivery means better dispersal and immediate nitrogen availability. It insures fast-acting, long-lasting nitrogen nourishment to crop root systems, even in dry soil and cool weather.

Q. You mean that my crop nets more nitrogen when it is applied in water?

A. Yes and our Brea Technical Service people can prove it with tests and case histories recorded on color film.

Q. What about service?

A. Our Brea service is really flexible. Aqua ammonia is simple and safe to handle, which means you can have any service plan to fit your work schedule.

How Do I Order Brea Aqua Ammonia?

A. Just phone our Sales Representative and let us know your needs. We are well supplied, equipped and ready to help you with your next nitrogen fertilizer program.
