Buick Introduces New Four-Door "Hardtop"

Buick General Manager Ivan L. Wiles poses proudly beside the automobile industry's latest style sensation, a four-door "hardtop" sedan. Like the two-door Riviera "hardtop" coupe Buick pioneered six years ago, the four-door model eliminates the center posts between the doors, combining the trim, racy lines of a four-door convertible with the comfort and roominess of a sedan. Buick will offer the new Riviera sedan in both the Century and Special Series. Production will begin early next year.

State Champion Is Award Winner In National Wool Sewing Contest

Champions in the art of home sewing, Oregon's representatives in the national finals of the "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest are seen in Salt Lake City after participating in the National Fashion Revue. The girls are Nancy L. Goodrich (second from left), 18, of Prineville, and Elizabeth Jane Barbee, 17, of Portland. Flanking the sewing champions are Mrs. Maude Schroeder (left), of Baker, president of the Oregon Wool Growers' Auxiliary, and Mrs. Alvin Hartley of Silverton, state contest director.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—An 18-year-old Prineville girl, one of two representing Oregon in the national finals of the "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest, has been awarded a national prize for her sewing skill.

She is Miss Nancy L. Goodrich, a freshman at Oregon State College in Corvallis, who traveled to Salt Lake City as Oregon's senior sewing champion. Miss Goodrich has been named fourth-place winner in the senior class, and receives a $100 Savings Bond, presented by the Producers Livestock Marketing Association of Ogden, Utah.

Miss Goodrich and Miss Elizabeth Jane Barbee, 17, of Portland, Oregon's junior champion, represented the state in the National Fashion Revue, annual climax of the contest, joining the sewing champions of 13 other Western states in modeling their own home-sewn fashions.

Miss Goodrich received her award for her full-length coat of navy blue Botany boucle. Detailed to perfection with a winged collar and a two-button closing, the coat features comfortable raglan-type sleeves, cut in an unusual angular styling.

Miss Barbee's entry, a rust and black wool tweed suit, features a trim shawl collar of black, and matching small cuffs. The smoothly fitting jacket has full-cut sleeves and tabs and self-covered buttons, which detail the hip-line. The slim skirt has a release-pleat at the back.

The two state home sewing champions received all-expense-paid trips to Salt Lake City, to be guests at the 90th annual convention of the National Wool Growers Association and to participate December 8 in the National Fashion Show. They traveled to and from Salt Lake City as guests of the F. W. Woolworth Company.

Designed to create interest in the art of sewing at home with virgin wool fabrics, the "Make It Yourself With Wool" Contest is held in all states of the Western wool-growing empire. It is open to all girls from 14 through 22 years of age. Those from 14 through 17 enter the junior division, those from 18 through 22, the senior division.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Oregon Wool Growers Association and the Wool Bureau sponsor the contest each year throughout the state. Mrs. Maude Schroeder of Baker is President of the Auxiliary and Mrs. Alvin Hartley of Silverton is State Contest Director.

WASCO EASTERN STAR HAS YEAR END OBSERVANCE

The last stated meeting of Annie Fulton Chapter No. 124, Order of the Eastern Star for 1954, was opened by the worthy patron and matron, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tuggle, on December 28, at 8:00 p. m.

The hall was beautifully decorated with baskets of greenery and red and white carnations and an arrangement of a snowman in the East.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harris, members of Hope Chapter No. 29, Oakesdale, Wn., who have resided in Wasco for the past eleven years and participated in chapter activities, expect to retire to Walla Walla, Wn., soon. They were surprised with an "Aloha Oe" degree presented by all chapter officers. Each officer wore a large lei and one was placed on George and Sue during the drill. They also received farewell gifts from the chapter and from the worthy matron and patron.

Watchwords of Mr. and Mrs. Tuggle for their year were "Peace and Love". The station of Peace was represented by Mrs. Hildred Zell whose emblem is the dove of peace. The station of Love represented by Mrs. Norman Gochnauer, whose station was Electa for the past year. Each of these officers gave a very interesting talk on their "word" and its connection in the chapter, community and throughout the world. Mrs. Zell and Mrs. Gochnauer each received gifts from the worthy matron, which were brought from Norway by her mother on her recent visit there.

During the evening, the worthy patron, Carl Tuggle, unveiled his gift to the chapter, which was secured by him with the assistance of the money from the chapter's birthday pig. Forty-six members and visitors had contributed a penny for each year of their lives to the pig during the year. A live hand-made "Star in The East" of Cathedral glass was illuminated for all to enjoy and to shine brightly through the years ahead.

The worthy matron and patron gave a short address to their officers and members and expressed deep appreciation for all the kind cooperation and consideration extended to them during the past year and for the privilege of serving in the East together.

Mrs. Keith McDonald, matron elect for 1955, assisted by the 1954 officers, surprised the retiring matron and patron with a clever degree of questions and answers to close their year. Mrs. McDonald presented them with a lovely gift.

Members of the chapter from out of town, who shared the evening were Theo Noma Beletski and Patricia Skiles from California, visiting relatives at Wasco for the holiday season.

The hostess committee for the closing meeting of the year were Mrs. Hugh White, Mrs. B. E. Hall, and Mrs. T. Lester Johnson. Assorted sandwiches, relishes and bite-size doughnuts were served from an attractive table centered with red poinsettia.

Newly elected and appointive officers to fill the station of Annie Fulton Chapter for the ensuing year are Mrs. Mildred McDonald, worthy matron; Gordon Harper, worthy patron; Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Haven, associate matron and patron; Mrs. H. M. Zell, secretary; Mrs. E. E. Shull, treasurer; Mrs. Augusta Huckin, conductress; Mrs. Elton Medler, asso. conductress; and Mrs. Gochnauer each received gifts from the worthy matron, which were brought from Norway by her mother on her recent visit there.

Open installation of officers will be jointly with the Masons of Taylor lodge No. 99, A.F.&A.M. Saturday, January 8 at 8:00 p. m. All members of Masonic bodies and friends are cordially invited to attend.

LET'S BUILD OREGON TOGETHER!

179 years old this month— and still ready for a scrap!

Since 1775, the U. S. Marine Corps has guarded our most valuable legacy—freedom.

IT WAS AT TUN'S TAVERN in Philadelphia on November 10, 1775, that the first Marines were recruited in America—and an important link in our chain of security was forged. The world-famous leathernecks have had a colorful and eventful history in just 179 years. In every war we've fought, Marines have helped prove to our enemies that freedom is the most effective weapon against aggression.

Master of the swift amphibious assault, today's Marine Corps has a specialized role in safeguarding freedom—just as every one of us has a specialized function in keeping our country sound and strong. For us, the job begins in our own homes... the job of individual security. For the strength of America is primarily that of one secure home linked with many others.

There's a simple plan that helps provide that kind of security for you—the Payroll Savings Plan. Here's how it works:

Just tell the people in your pay office how much you'd like to save each payday. They'll put that amount aside for you. When enough accumulates, they buy and turn over to you a U. S. Series E Savings Bond. Each Bond earns an average 3% annual interest, compounded every six months—and goes on earning it for as long as 19 years and 8 months! That means a return of up to 80% more than you originally paid!

Sign up for security today on the Payroll Savings Plan!

If you want your interest as current income, ask your banker about 3% Series H Bonds that pay interest semiannually by Treasury check.
