The master reports the 1st and 2nd degrees will be put on by the Harlandview grange October 6 and he hopes all the candidates can be present.

On legislation George Fox reported a new Sherman county school superintendent had been hired. The office was left vacant when Wiley Knighten resigned to accept a principalship at the school in Mitchell.

Mrs. Rolland Johnson thanked all for helping with the food booth at the fair. Says the exact amount isn't known as all bills are not in. The master thanked Mr. and Mrs. Harrison for their work on the grange booth at the fair where the grange was awarded first place.

For the literary program Mrs. Bert Swigart read and translated a reading written in Norwegian. Curtis Neal showed some pictures taken of his travels.

Congressman

SAM COON

SAYS: The small farmer of Oregon deserves a better break. He gets little help from rigid price supports, because only two of the six so-called "basic" crops are grown in this state. The other four—tobacco, peanuts, cotton and rice—are exclusively in the South. The only explanation for this is "politics." I want to see a farm program designed to help the small farmer, not the politician. When the farmer prospers, we all prosper.
