From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Barn Owl "WHOO donit"

The Barn Owl Controversy still rages in our town. One group claims owls should be protected because they eat vermin. The other faction holds that those little howlers also eat chickens... and should be shot.

Now Pops Parker claims both parties are right. All owls clean up vermin. Some owls also clean out an occasional hen yard.

The way to spot a bad owl, according to Pops, is to put up a 10-foot pole in the chicken run with a No. 2 trap on it. A marauding bird generally perches to look over the situation before he strikes, giving you your evidence, and the culprit!

From where I sit, I doubt if this will end the owl argument. People have different opinions on the subject—just as they have different opinions about whether beer, tea or what-have-you makes the best thirst quencher. Examine the facts and make up your own mind, I say... and be thankful we live where that's possible.

DON'T BE FOOLED!

the PEOPLE of Oregon elected WAYNE MORSE their U.S. SENATOR...

AND THE PEOPLE WILL RE-ELECT HIM BECAUSE WAYNE MORSE WORKS FOR ALL THE PEOPLE!

Wayne Morse believes it is time for ACTION... to head off a growing farm depression in our rich country. Basic to his farm program is Wayne Morse's belief that family farms and ranches must be preserved.

- Wayne Morse will renew efforts to create a realistic farm credit program. His plan is for low interest rate loans to be paid off on a flexible repayment schedule. This method will tide farmers over bad years and let them pay off debts in good years.
- Wayne Morse will continue to press for an end to the current high interest rate policy which has led to increased interest rates on farm home and other loans and has made all farm borrowing tougher and more expensive.
- Wayne Morse will continue to work for a long range soil conservation program to replace makeshift year-to-year efforts.
- Wayne Morse will work again for the domestic parity plan for wheat. He was successful in steering domestic parity through the Senate this year only to have the plan killed by President Eisenhower's veto.
- Wayne Morse will work for federal programs to help protect tree crop farms from foreign price-cutting.
- Wayne Morse will renew efforts for authorization of high Hells Canyon Dam to provide cheap power and aid to irrigation.
- Wayne Morse will persist in championing expansion of Rural Electrification. He was instrumental in increasing 1954 REA funds by $35-million and has fought against efforts to undermine the power preference clause, under which REA expands.

Wayne Morse will continue to work and vote for legislation to increase the purchasing power of the farmer.
