MARKET DISCUSSION
COVER VARIED ITEMS

Oregon livestock, dairy, and poultry farmers can look forward to cheaper feeds this fall but mixed price trends for their products, report Oregon State college agricultural economists and marketing specialists.

Feeder cattle prices during the next six months are expected to be higher than a year ago as feed lot operators move to cash in on cheaper hay and feed grains, says W. Y. Fowler, OSC livestock specialist.

Fed cattle prices, however, appear to be near the peak for this year with prospects for a heavy slaughter of grass-fed cattle, plus larger supplies from feed lots across the country.

Hog prices are also likely to decline seasonally after hitting a late July peak but are not likely to drop below last fall's favorable level, Fowler believes. He says favorable prices haven't stamped-out midwest hog raisers into over-expansion yet.

Slaughter lamb prices show signs of holding stronger than normal. A combination of a heavy May-June lamb slaughter and stepped-up lamb sales promotion may even lead to a slight price rise in August, Fowler says. Higher wool prices are encouraging farmers to hold more ewe lambs for flock increases.

OH! THAT LICENSE PLATE

Checked your car license plates lately?

Oregon's Department of Motor Vehicles today reminded automobile owners with August tabs to renew licenses now rather than waiting until the last day of the month.

Renewing earlier, the department said, will save time in getting new registration certificates to owners and will ease end-of-the-month congestion in the registration division.

About 54,000 license plates expire each month under the staggered license system in effect.

"How to Make" Two-Story Sandwich

Webster says a sandwich consists of "two slices of bread, usually buttered and having a layer of meat, cheese or savory mixture spread between them". August Sandwich Month—1957, and its array of tantalizing combinations of meat, cheeses and savory fillings make Webster's definition the understatement of the year. With all the zesty flavored cheeses, canned meats, hearty hams, and delicate white meats of chicken and turkey that one can combine with nutrition-enriched bread rolls made from fine Oregon wheat flour, it is simple and fun to concoct a true masterpiece of a sandwich. A treat from toast to top, this two-decker is a meal-in-one sandwich for busy summer days. Served with icy milk, this crab-cheese delight is sure to please every summer appetite. Remember sandwiches have nutritional value, too. The breads alone contribute highly to needed protein and vitamin intake. Breads are a healthful blend of soft Oregon wheat flour and hard flour.

- Second-Story Sandwich
- 1 1/2 oz. can crab meat
 - 2 diced, hardcooked eggs
 - 1/4 cup French dressing
 - 1/4 cup pickle relish
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 6 thick tomato slices
 - Seasoned salt
 - 6 white-toast slices
 - Mayonnaise
 - 4 packaged processed - American cheese slices
 - 2 radishes
 - 4 avocado slices
- Start heating over to 400° F.

Flake crab meat; mix with eggs, French dressing, pickle relish and salt. Sprinkle both sides of tomato slices with seasoned salt. Spread toast with mayonnaise. On a wooden board or baking sheet, make 2 Second-Story sandwiches, using tomatoes for bottom layer, crab-meat mixture for second layer. Top each sandwich with 2 cheese slices; halve diagonally. Bake 7 to 10 minutes.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT missile, the Navy's "Terrier," is one of a family of defensive missiles, including the Army's "Nike," which could be put into action if the nation's warning system indicated the approach of attacking planes. Primary purpose of these missiles at such a time would be to protect the nation's 92 critical civil defense targets from as many attackers as possible. following a 20 per cent cut in the national hatch of flock replacement chicks last spring. The cut-back will mean fewer pullets and fewer small and medium eggs this fall, reports Charles Fischer, OSC poultry marketing specialist. Broiler prices, however, could be headed for a sharp drop unless July-August production is held below a year ago, the specialist believes. Broiler marketings this fall will face stiff competition from a record crop and good supplies of other meats.

A. W. McLeod, and old-time now residing in Moro, Oregon. Shermanite, called on the Journal Wednesday. Mr. McLeod farmed at one time on Starvation Point, lived in The Dalles and is Pays Dividends.
