Rufus Personals

Mrs. George Fox

The Rufus Grange with Mrs. Harland McDonald as leader again had a successful year with their food booth at the Sherman fair. The ones helping with early breakfast at the stand were Mrs. Rolland Johnson, Mrs. Grace Medler and Mr. and Mrs. Atlee Wilson until Sunday when Mrs. Harland McDonald and Mrs. Walter Morris took Mrs. Medlers place when she became ill. Others working during the days of the fair were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Swigart and Mrs. George Fox. Helping out Sunday afternoon were Mrs. Robert Byrd and Mrs. Joe Morris.

The grange plans using the funds to move the old community church building and attaching it to the grange hall for a dining room. Then a new roof will be put on all of the building, also siding. The grange plans on getting started on this project next month.

The Rufus Grange booth took first place at the Sherman fair. It was made by Mrs. Fred Harrison, and had a theme of "County Fair". There were horses in barns, cattle in feed lots, pigs in pens, chickens in coops, bakery goods, paintings and fancy work, flowers and vegetables on display. All of the models and articles shown were made of a salt formula and painted by Mrs. Harrison who has a special gift to do this type of work. Everyone seemed to enjoy pointing out the points of interest Mrs. Harrison had brought out in her "County Fair" display and the Rufus Grange is proud of the blue ribbon she won for it.

The virus flu, also stomach flu seems to have hit this area this week with so many on the sick list. Harland McDonald and Mrs. John Mathieson are in bed, no better at this writing. On account of so much sickness, the Booster night program set for September 21 at the Rufus Grange hall has been cancelled until a later date.
