Balsiger-Brandon Wedding Observed In Portland Church Sunday, November 10

The wedding of Miss Joanna Brandon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Brandon of Portland and W. Edwin Balsiger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Balsiger of Moro at the Westminster Presbyterian church in Portland Sunday, November 10, was an occasion that drew many local residents to the city.

The groom, flanked by his best man, Larry Kaseberg and ushers David Moore and James Laughton, Cliff Halvorsen, Donald Peck and Thomas McGinnis, fraternity brothers, and matron of honor Mrs. Mike Nosler and bridesmaids Mrs. Robert Zwald, Sally Allen and Arlene Hart, waited while the bride came down the aisle on the arm of her father.

Her gown was pale de Soul trimmed in Chantilly lace with seed pearls and sequins, long train and veil. Bridesmaids wore ballerina length dresses in velvet shocking pink. Flowers were pink and white.

The couple met at the University of Oregon where both graduated last June, she a member of Pi Beta Phi and he of Beta Theta Pi.

Shortly after the ceremony they left for San Francisco where he will report for navy duty, having just graduated from naval training school with rank of ensign with duty ordered on the oiler Hassayampa in the Orient.
