The answers to everyday insurance problems!

By Frank Ketter

"If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office, we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind."

QUESTION: Is it really necessary to keep insurance policies in a safe deposit box? Doesn't anyone keep duplicates which I could get if my policies were lost or burned?

ANSWER: Copies of all your policies are made and kept in safe places but there are many instances where policy holders have died or forgotten about the policies and no claims filed for losses which were actually covered. Your safe deposit box is well worth its small cost in the case of mind it brings.

NEW TRANQUILIZER FOR ANIMALS

At one time or another all farmers and pet owners have faced the problem of having to handle a vicious or unruly animal. Mechanical means of restraining sick or unmanageable animals without hurting them have always caused difficulties for the animal and owner. Now the problem has been reduced tremendously by the use of a new tranquilizer called Trilafon, available through your veterinarian, which is effective in large and small animals.

Trilafon quiets the unruly animal without causing the discomfort or injury which is usually caused by physical or mechanical restraining procedures. Often the owner and attending veterinarian suffer bites or injuries in attempting to calm and treat sick or injured animals.

With this potent new tranquilizer, the veterinarian can make a more careful and complete examination without the danger of injury to himself or the animal.

In large animals the new drug is helpful in quieting them so that hooves may be trimmed, dehorning can be done, bandages changed, dental work and other types of minor surgery and examinations can be carried out with ease.

The tranquilizer is used very effectively in calming first-calf and secondary schools and 1,300 superintendents, principals and supervisors. The increase in full-time personnel over a year ago is 505 teachers and 44 administrators.

"While the survey increased teacher salaries in Oregon this year, we are seriously alarmed by the decline of the teacher salary position in relation to other states, particularly Washington and California," commented Richard H. Bars, OEA assistant executive secretary. "To staff our classrooms, Oregon is still highly dependent on an adequate out-of-state teacher supply. Our declining salary position among states, jeopardizes this supply."

The Oregon average salary is 14th among all states this year, Bars said, whereas five years ago it was 12th and ten years ago 10th. California's average is $925 more than Oregon's this year and Washington's is $375 higher. Bars indicated that both states draw heavily from Oregon school districts for teachers.

The salary survey shows that teacher salaries vary from $850 to $3100 within the state this year. Total salaries paid to all public school teachers and administrators in Oregon amounts to $78,529,972.

Average salaries being paid by teaching levels are as follows: all elementary teachers, $4687; junior high school teachers in first class unified school districts, $4968, and all senior-high teachers, $5140.

Averages for administrators are as follows: elementary principals, $6448; junior high principals in first class districts, $7240; senior high principals (in sizes of districts), $7157; superintendents in first class unified school districts, $9840.
