WINTER SOLISTICE

Next Sunday the days will start to get longer and we can observe the happiest day of the year. It has been that way since the memory of man runs and there has been a celebration over the turning of the sun north since man began to observe the heavens.

Our Christmas holiday was placed at that time to coincide with the natural celebration that had gone on for centuries. There is no correct information as to the actual date of the birth of Jesus Christ. The giving of gifts, the wine and dining, that makes a holiday are very old in the history of the shortest day.
What better time could there be for a holiday. Men are assured that the long winter nights will be shorter, that the sun has turned toward them again, that days will be longer, the air warmer and that soon the grass will spring up and the crops grow to make food more plentiful. We are celebrating the amazing revival of the earth and all its plants that is a source of wonder to mankind to be a cave dweller or a civilized being.

ABOUT SCHOOLS
It is very probable that many persons realize that in criticizing the schools they are in effect criticizing themselves for the schools are merely one manifestation of the national trend in thinking.
Adults have been taking the easy way of life, spending more, working less, doing less work.

That such an attitude has extended to the schools is not at all strange. It is, of course, more serious to be infected with the notion of universal ease in youth than in old age.
We are not going to suddenly change the schools but more work will be given the children when more work becomes necessary for adults. It is our opinion that youngsters are sufficiently flexible that they will adjust to any reasonable course of study. In fact, we'll bet that many would enjoy learning more—if it was fashionable, that is.

WHAT'S DOING
Cal Horn, your Telephone Manager

Every so often I'll pick up a newspaper and read how telephone people have helped save a life somewhere. First aid instruction (above) deserves a lot of credit for this.
For years we've been teaching our people first aid. Special courses like this are a part of their telephone training, under our continuing Safety Program. Our people have found that the safety methods they learned on their telephone jobs have proved mighty helpful when away from work. We think it makes good sense to have everyone well-trained in case of emergencies. Everybody's better off that way.

Looking for a Christmas gift idea that's both original and practical? Then give extension telephones—in color.
Whether you're shopping for Mother, Father, Son, Daughter, Grandpa or Grandma, here's a gift that'll ring the bell all year long. And color phones not only give convenience and pleasure; they add a touch of beauty to any room.
Shopping's easy, too. Just call your telephone business office.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!
