Lupine Rebekah lodge met Tuesday night with Ann Miller, NG, and Mae Broun, VG, in the chairs. The lodge agreed to conduct card parties the first to be March 14 for the purpose of helping install a sprinkling system in the IOOF home in Portland. Bridge and pinocle will be played and refreshments served.

A campaign was started to get bigger attendance at meetings and it was suggested that members invite other members to attend and those absent be required to give an excuse at next meeting. It was said that at Boise, Idaho such excuses were found very interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Henkle returned from several months spent in California the first of the week and anxious to see the wheat grow in Sherman county.

Alumni of the University of Oregon Collis Moore, J. K. McKean, Vernon Miller, M. M. Powell, T. Lester Johnson, Wendell Balsiger, Irving Hart and Giles French, attended a dinner at The Dalles Tuesday night to meet and greet Len Casanova and the coaching staff of the surprising Oregon football team. Colored movies of the Rose Bowl game were shown with explanation by the coaches.

Sherman countians with tickets for the community concerts heard a band from Vienna Monday night at The Dalles high school auditorium and enjoyed the precision of the players who have been together for years.

Roy Powell suffered a seizure Wednesday night that was considered serious for a time but he is reported better Thursday.

Tommy Thompson was kept at home by illness most of the week having a fever that may have been the flu.

Larry Kaseberg left Sunday night with ten others from Oregon for Lackland air base near San Antonio, Texas to begin basic training. He will be in the air force for three years and has been assigned to the air control and warning section of the 142nd air force.

Dayanne Sayrs, of Moro recently served as co-chairman of the "Tolo" (girl ask boy dance), sponsored by the Associated Women Students. The affair, set in a barn dance atmosphere, took the place of the annual Sadie Hawkins day dance. Miss Sayrs, sophomore elementary education major, is a member of Alpha Gamma sorority. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lamer H. Sayrs, Moro.

Wasco News

A regular meeting of the Teen Age Angels club was called to order Monday evening by Larry Middleton, minutes read by secretary Arlene Macnab, and the treasurer's report given by John Capaci. Sunday afternoon at 3:30 will be the initiation of the twelve new members, who are asked to be prompt because of the regular MYF meeting held later in the day at 5:30. Present members will be hosts to a potluck dinner served after initiation. Next Monday night after a short business meeting there will be basketball and volleyball practice in the school gym. All members are asked to bring their own shoes and towels, otherwise they will not be allowed to participate. There was a vote of appreciation thanking Freddie Dormaier for the use of his film and projector for last week. There was quite a discussion on outdoor activities in the near future. The Teen Age Angels was decided upon for the official name of the club. Refreshments were served and recreation was enjoyed following the meeting.

4-H Club News

By Ann Hall, Reporter

The 4-H HI YU Saddle club meeting was held at the Leonard Fields' home February 23.

We elected officers as follows: John Fields, president; Marilyn Smith, vice president; Shirley Watkins, secretary; Ann Hall, news reporter; Floyd Rathbun song leader.

Our leader Mr. Watkins, presented the belated 4-H Showmanship trophies to the junior and senior division championship winners of the 1957 Sherman county fair. The junior division trophy was given to Patty Alsop and Shirley Watkins received the senior trophy. Jimmy Coons passed his last exam to earn his 4-H rider pin from our leader.

Refreshments were served to 21 members and adults by the hostess Mrs. Fields.

The next meeting will be March 9, at the fair grounds.

GRASS VALLEY LIVESTOCK CLUB 4-H REPORT

By Reporter Danny Rolfe

The last meeting held by the Grass Valley Livestock club was held at the home of Vernon Eakin, February 13, 1958. Gene and David Eakin were hosts.

For roll call we named animal breeds. There were three reports: Mike Eslinger, "Selection of Sheep"; Nancy Crews, "Swine Showmanship"; Danny Rolfe, "Animal Health".

After a short business meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Eakin.

By Ann Hall, Reporter

The Moro Livestock club meeting of February 9 was called to order by President Darlene Gochauer. We had one new member, Carole Drinkard. Tommy Thompson showed a picture "Hog Sense." After our business meeting we had a test on the eight main parts of the steer, hog and lamb.
