Grain is our business, too!

The Commission of Public Docks is geared for rapid, economical movement of grain from the productive Inland Empire to world markets. Our tidewater grain elevator at Terminal No. 4 is the largest west of the Mississippi—capacity 7½ million bushels. Speed in handling means greater profits for you when you ship via low rate water level route to Portland.

MODERN METHODS MEAN GREATER PROFITS FOR YOU...

Barge—12,000 bushels per hour can be discharged from barges by our two Airveyors.

Rail—Our car tipper can unload a rail car in less than six minutes.

Truck—Our modern hydraulic dumper can unload one truck every six minutes.

Engineering improvements now underway will double the speed with which ships can load at our efficient grain berth.

Commission of Public Docks grain elevator at Terminal No. 4 is leased and operated by Cargill, Inc.
