

Biggest floral clock in the world is planned for International Garden of Tomorrow at Oregon Centennial exposition grounds at Portland next summer. Clock, modeled after one at Christchurch, New Zealand, will actually tell time, and hands and face alike will be made of growing flowers. World's biggest candle will stand behind clock. Garden will cover 8 1/2 acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Ardie Jordan are home again after a month's vacation. Mrs. Jordan is back at the post office window again. During her vacation she was sick for a week, so her time away was longer than she had expected. The Jordans fished up at the lakes, and spent some time seeing some of Oregon's scenery at the coast and in the mountains.

Mrs. George Fox and Mrs. Bill Huck spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weatherford at Olex seeing Mrs. Fox's grandchildren. August 8 was Cheri Weatherford's second birthday.

What they did, And how, and why, and what the neighbors said.

Despite the hot weather a sensitive and experienced nose can smell fall. School men have announced the date for school opening, which of course, they knew all the time and told it on request. It will be September 8, the most natural date. And the fair plans are getting on with some counties holding theirs real soon.

It won't be summer much longer so if there's something you want to do in warm weather it is time to be at it. Actually no one wants to do much of anything in hot weather and they delay the inevitable until cool nights come and the breeze is refreshing during the day. And maybe put it off entirely.

The steelhead fishermen are at it again, fishing and talking about the big one that got away or got caught, comparing lures, giving advice and acting like fishermen the world over. They bake in the hot sun of the gorge, stiffen their limbs climbing over the rocks, maul their bodies riding over rocky roads and have the best time whether awarded with fish or forced to return home with an empty sack.

Business must be good. Everyone is busy in stores and stations and business men seem to be planning ahead as if they expected to be in business for an indefinite time. Some of the more modern ones even advertise.

Jack Cushman is home again this week after being in Chicago last week for a conference of IHC dealers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Marvin and son Greg and Harry Kunsman are at the beach this week and next for a vacation away from the job.

Mrs. Ivy Morgan spent a few days here this week with her daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and family, coming from Kennewick, Washington where she said it had been very hot.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ferrell and daughters are on vacation this week and next going to Rhododendron where they find the relaxation they like—fishing and golf.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Balsiger went to Toledo Sunday to visit with his nephew who is a commander in the navy as a flier. They found the weather cool along the coast.

Dale Harrison has bought the Bullard house at the top of Main street, the former Frank Pike house.

Tex Irzyk and family and his brother, Bennie, are spending a few days at Seaside getting over the hard work of harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Busse of Long Island, New York, were here the first of the week to spend a couple days visiting his brother, Ralph and family, while on a trip through the west.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to express my thanks to the friends who sent me flowers and cards and gave me words of cheer and did deeds of kindness during my illness.

We can't vary the subject by writing about the weather because there has been such a small change in the weather for weeks now. An ideal year for harvesting the crops of which there seems to be a bountiful amount in grains and fruit for this part of the country. The children are getting as brown as Indians with all the swimming and playing in the water, an age old custom

Standard's local buying means good business for more than 26,000 "hometown" suppliers

Our shopping list covers everything from adding machines to zinc. Almost any item you can name—from commonplace things like pencils, paint, pipe, printing to the less ordinary like binoculars, badges, blankets and burglar alarms—is in our 50,000-item shopping list.

Here in the West alone, last year Standard was a good customer for more than 10,000 suppliers of goods and services, to whom we paid more than $250,000,000. This was an important factor in the business health of many western towns.

When a sum like this goes into circulation it spreads out in all directions to support jobs and payrolls. It helps assure customers for thousands of enterprises, both small and large, including Standard. That's why we make every practical effort to buy locally—it means better business in the communities we serve.

Progress in the West means—

Encouraging the growth of local business to help provide jobs for a population predicted to increase by one-third in ten years.*

1968: 30,418,000

1958: 22,774,000

*U.S. Census Bureau projection: California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Arizona and Alaska, Hawaii estimates.
