Elvin Barnum Passes 84th Year

Elvin Barnum was 84 last Thursday, August 21, having been born at Sand Springs which is near the spring west of the Hugh White place, in 1874. His grand parents ran the stage station. He remembers when his father, who was the first settler in Moro, had a ditch fence around the flat where the town is located and raised rye hay and held stock for sale or feed. He remembers the spring of 1885 after the hard winter when he helped bring in the family horses that had wintered around a spring north of Gordon ridge. All had their manes and tails eaten off. The winter ended so abruptly that the horses were fed but once before there was open land to turn them out on.

Rufus Personals

Mrs. George Fox
Rufus grange met last Thursday evening for the first time in six weeks with Master George Fox presiding. Mrs. Mary Wilson of The Dalles was granted a demit. For the literary program Mrs. Bill Huck had a roll call of Safety rules. Each one told what they try to do to prevent accidents. The members told of the comical incidents which happened on the farm. Then the lecturer asked some riddles. Later in the evening the members went over to the Fox residence to have refreshments because the grange hall was so very hot that night.
A cool west wind gave relief to the community Monday after being hot for so long. It wasn't until Tuesday that it was comfortable without air conditioning being turned on. Even the nights didn't cool off. Some of the farmers decided it was too hot to work during the afternoons.
Mr. and Mrs. Ken Hollinger were seen in The Dalles Saturday. Ken was the former assistant state highway boss at Rufus. They said they had been in the Klamath Falls area and had moved up to Mt. Hood recently. He is with the state highway patching crew. They were in The Dalles to see Ken's mother, Mrs. Kate Hollinger who was in the hospital here for two months. Mrs. Hollinger hasn't recuperated very well since the operation on her hip, so they were making arrangements to take her to a rest home near Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Watchey and Mrs. Bernard Babe from Idaho were visitors at the Will Huck home recently. Mr. Withey reported an unusual storm in Idaho a few weeks ago. A storage grain bin was seen going through the air, going over a truck then to the ground, raising and sailing over a large irrigating ditch, after landing on the third time and sailed into a prune orchard to stay. The owner of this grain bin was working in the field about one fourth mile away and there was no wind where he was to speak of. That's what made this sight so unusual. Mrs. Withey is the mother of Bob Byrd who lives in Rufus.

W. Wilson of Kent, Oregon were bride-groom, wore a dusty rose lace dress with a corsage of lavender vanda orchids.
Paul J. Wilson, brother of the bride-groom, was best man.
The bride attended Sullins College, Va., and Stetson University. The bride-groom graduated from Stanford University and is currently assigned to the Strategic Air Command and is based at McConnell Air Force Base in Wichita, Kansas where the couple will reside.

The ceremony which was performed in the presence of the two immediate families, took place before a candle-lit altar decorated with arrangements of white gladioli.
The bride wore a white re-embroidered lace dress of waltz length. Her short veil was attached to a white nylon bandeau. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white cattleya orchid.
The bride's mother wore a delect blue lace gown and a corsage of yellow vanda orchids.

Let's Talk REAL COST ...with your Brea Brand Solution Man
"REAL COST OF FERTILIZER" DEPENDS ON YIELD!
What's this "real cost of fertilizer" I'm hearing so much about?
Many farmers now agree that "the real cost of fertilizer" must be figured in terms of gain or loss in yield and profit produced, rather than just dollars-per-ton actually paid for the fertilizer. Here are two ways to figure this "real cost".
1. ORIGINAL COST PLUS LOSS IN YIELD: One case history reports a grain grower bought his ammonia at $30 per ton less than the going price in his area. This bargain purchase forced him to handle all the application without technical service. He missed the most profitable application rate and his yield brought him $7.50 per acre less profit than his neighbor. He figured that one ton of ammonia fertilized 16 acres at 100 lbs. N per acre, so he multiplied his $7.50 per acre loss times 16 acres to make a loss equal to $120 per ton of ammonia. This made his "real cost":
Original cost ($30 less than dealer price) plus $120 loss in yield = $90/ton more than dealer price.
2. ORIGINAL COST MINUS GAIN IN YIELD: The neighbor who paid market price for his ammonia with a service program, and got $7.50 per acre more in yield, had a "real cost" of:
Original cost (dealer price) minus $120 gain in yield = $120/ton less than dealer price.
How can I keep my "real cost of fertilizer" as low as possible?
Talk to your Brea Brand Solution Man. He draws on the combined experience of Brea Brand dealers and trained agriculturists and agricultural engineers to plan your program on profitable rates and methods of fertilizer application.
In using and interpreting quick tissue tests, Brea Brand dealers have more experience than any other comparable service organization in the Western states. They will help you lower the "real cost" of your fertilizer.
