Here for the opening of the deer season was Norval May and son Bill who visited at the Marion Powell home over the week end.

Ronnie May was here from Portland to go hunting for a deer. Deer hunters, Joe and Doolie Kirstine of Portland, were here as visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Belshee for the first hunting day. She is Lee's sister.

A party of old timers met at the home of Mrs. Jack Henkle last Thursday for lunch. There was Mrs. Grace Dennis, now 69, of Long Beach, Calif., a grand daughter of Abel Erskine, her daughter Mrs. Ed Mareks of Portland, Mrs. Earl Weida of Portland, Mrs. Leonard Sonnemon of Chehalis, Wn. Mrs. Maggie Barnum, Mrs. Anna Moore and Mrs. Marion Powell were local guests. Mrs. Powell drove the group to historic points of interest to them in the county previous to the luncheon.

J. R. Byars is the new Union Oil consignee at Wasco having bought out Ira Fridley during the summer. The Byars family came from Goldendale and have bought the John Foss house in Wasco.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Bull were here Saturday and Sunday to visit his father, Mac Bull.

Eugene Vintin stopped to visit Mr. and Mrs. Loy Cochran Saturday evening while he was visiting relatives in Sherman county.

A high wind hit the county the first of the week and Tuesday night brought a little shower of rain, not enough to be of much help to sown grain or encouragement to farmers waiting to seed.

tion next Monday night, October 13 at the Moro school for the teachers of that school. A group of parents have arranged the affair in honor of the instructors. All school patrons are invited.

Charles Burnet is in a hospital in The Dalles with a fractured skull caused when he was inspecting a tire on his car. The jack slipped and he was hit on the head. At the hospital he was found in serious condition but has been improving the last day or so according to reports.

Jack Noonan returned home Sunday after spending several days with his son, Carroll, at St. Helens, where Carroll is working in the bag department of the paper mill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thomas of Wheeler county were here for the opening of the hunting season and found a deer. Hunters used to go the other way. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bruckert while here.

Rufus Personals

Mrs. George Fox

Friends at Rufus have received an announcement of the marriage of Wally Joe Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morris of Rufus on Monday, September 22 at Billings, Montana. His bride, Mary Ann, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Logan.

A few of the hunters had luck getting their buck this season already, but on the whole the bucks aren't too plentiful here this year. It is thought on account of the dry season they have gone farther up to the mountains.

It had all the appearances of rain here Monday afternoon, and the clouds were hanging heavy in the sky Tuesday, but no rain. There is quite a wind blowing, and it is getting colder. The wheat farmers still hope for a rain so they can get the seeding done.

The Rufus PTA met Monday evening at the Rufus school to meet the new teachers, and change the organization to a social group of the Parent Teachers. Last year's president, Mrs. Sammy Tsubota, was in charge of the meeting, and the forming of the new group was discussed. It was decided to have two hostesses each month to plan some entertainment for the get-together for visiting and fun. The hostesses would provide the refreshments.

It was decided advisable to have a financial secretary, so Mrs. Kenneth Spagle was appointed or elected by the group present. Mrs. Tsubota appointed Mrs. Bill Macnab, Mrs. Bob Morris and Mrs. Joe Morris to plan out a schedule of hostesses until the end of the school year.

The Rufus PTA social group planned to sponsor the Cub Scout pack and also to make them a cash donation of $10.00. Mrs. Otto Petersen is a leader and it is hoped the pack can meet with their parents at the Rufus school one night a month. The weekly Cub Scout meetings will be held in the homes.

The group will sponsor the usual Halloween party for the children with games, prizes and refreshments. Leland Medler will be general chairman, and Mrs. Joe Morris will be in charge of food. Jack Lloyd, principal, of Rufus school then introduced the two new teachers. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Leland Medler and Mrs. Morris Burnett, who served cupcakes, nuts and coffee to all.

The Rufus Grange had its regular meeting last Thursday at the hall with Master George Fox presiding. Rolland Johnson on agriculture says there is a spray to keep mice out of the fields. Also how to make a chick or pig feed-er from an old tire. Bill Huck reported the school building bill for Sherman High was passed at the election held October 1. The grange plans to resume their pot luck dinners for the season at the next meeting which would be October 16, and the time was 6:30 p. m.

A thank-you letter was received from Mrs. Charles Wilson for cards sent her while she was ill. The State Grange quarterly report was read by the secretary, Mrs. Atlee Wilson.

It was announced the past masters' club of the Hood River, Wasco and Sherman counties, will meet at Rufus October 25 at 6:30 with a pot luck dinner. All members of the home grange are invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Sam Brock thanked every one for all the cards and visits to her home while she was ill.

Although Mrs. Bill Huck was unable to be present, she prepared the following program: all the members told of some Halloween prank they played in their youth. Mrs. Harland McDonald read "The Origin of Halloween." A quiz on farm animals and farm products. A game of ten chosen members participating, with Mr. and Mrs. Art Smith, the leaders. Art Smith's group was the winner.

The grange women served supper at the close of the meeting and an hour of visiting was enjoyed around the table.

Mrs. Kenneth Spagle, chairman of the Home Ec unit announces the first unit meeting will be October 23 at 10:30 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Ruth Hosey at Biggs. Miss Carol Armstrong plans on being present to plan out hostesses and other business for this coming year. Guests that day are to bring a sack lunch. Mrs. Kenneth Spagle will be co-host that day and she and Mrs. Hosey will serve the dessert and coffee.
