Sherrie Fraser Wins District Crown

Sherrie Fraser was selected as the winner in the junior division of the district "Make It Yourself With Wool" sewing contest held in The Dalles Saturday, November 1. This entitles her to enter the state contest to be held in Portland, November 15, at Meier and Franks.

Her winning ensemble consisted of a black wool coat and two piece chemise dress of turquoise wool.

Wes Fuller came up from Portland to cast his vote on election day and do some visiting among old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fraser were in the county Tuesday to cast their vote and look after business.

Patricia Coats, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Coats, was operated upon in University hospital in Portland Wednesday for a lung condition and is reported to be recuperating fast after a successful operation.

Two men are coming to Moro to be employed at Empire Machinery. One, Andy Poulston is living in a trailer house after coming from Montana, the other, Lee Strahm, will move here soon from Arlington.

Halloween was a rather quiet night in Moro, although small goblins did mark a greeting on most windows and larger ones scattered paper (meant for more useful purpose) about the streets. It has been some time since goblins were destructive.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. W. HARDER

According to all official estimates, the Federal government will have a deficit in the 1959 fiscal year of $12 billion.

Since World War II only one year has the deficit been higher, and that was in 1946 when the war costs had not yet been stopped.

In fact, the 1959 deficit promises to be at least 20% higher than the highest in peak year of Korean War.

This situation has prompted government on several occasions recently to caution business to hold a price line. Part of these statements are due to the fact that the value of the dollar, in terms of what it will buy, has shrunk from a little over 71 cents in 1946 to 48 cents in 1958.

Yet, in these official pronouncements, no mention is made of the fact that taxes have been the greatest factor in the devaluation of the dollar.

It is more than of passing significance that the dollar was at its highest value in 1946, the year the foreign give away programs started, and that every year since then, as the bills along the nation's Main Street have been tapped for more than $59 billion to throw away around the world, the value of the dollar has constantly declined.

It still seems obvious that you can't rob Peter to pay Paul.

While as it is argued, it may be to the American interests to have everybody fat, sassy and happy, 178,000,000 Americans cannot provide Utopia for almost 3 billion people and remain solvent.

LIKING FOR RED MEAT MAY CHANGE FEEDING METHODS FOR CATTLEMEN SOON

Food shoppers' preference for lean, red meat is working gradual changes in the "finishing" and marketing of beef animals, says an Oregon State college extension livestock marketing specialist.

W. Y. Fowler points out that fat meat has become a drug on the market. Food retailers are primarily interested in the percentage of saleable red meat or trimmed retail cuts, he adds.

The marketing specialist says the new trend for lean meats has run headlong into the tradition of buying and selling cattle carcasses on the basis of "dressing percentage" which gives equal value to saleable meat and fat.

Since retailers and consumers pay the final bill, livestockmen and packers are keeping a close watch on market demands. The trend is already bringing major changes in the swine industry where an effort is being made to develop meat type hogs and to emphasize trimmed retail cuts.

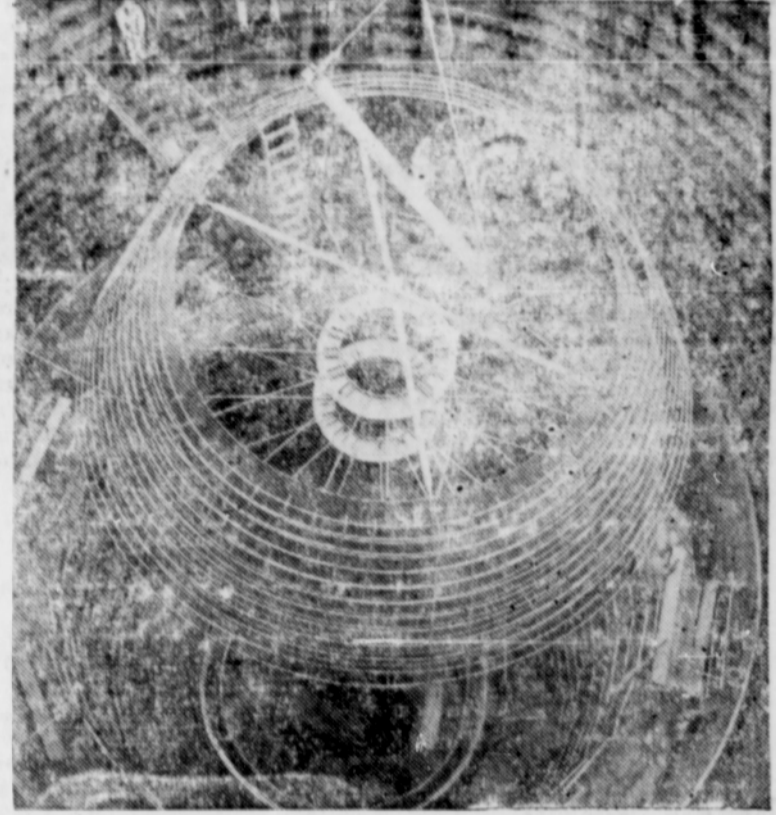

Following are a few suggestions aimed at profitable "feeding out" of beef cattle to meet new market demands:

Where grass and silage are to be fed, stay away from higher feeder grades that won't return enough as fat cattle to justify the initial expense.

For heavy feeding of grain, select the higher feeder grades that can carry the finish.

Don't overfeed. Sell individual animals from the feedlot or range as soon as they're ready for market.

Keep in touch with the commission man or buyer to learn how your cattle are "cutting out" and seek opinions from the packer on how quality of your cattle might be improved.

a party like this and it keeps the children off the streets.

The Rufus Grange entertained with the second card party of this series at the hall Saturday night. Pinochle is the most popular game played with Atlee Wilson and Mrs. Harland McDonald getting the high prizes while low prizes were given to Otto Peterson and Mrs. Atlee Wilson.

It was announced another party is planned for November 15 at the hall. The women of the grange served the usual bountiful supper to all present.

The Parent Teacher social group met at the cafeteria Monday night for a get together. It was decided to have two couples be the hostesses to the evening and refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Morris and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morris were the hostesses for this affair. There were three tables of pinochle in play, others played ping pong, volleyball or just visited. Later the hostesses served cake, coffee and cider.

The list has been prepared for hostesses the rest of the year as follows: December: Dr. and Mrs. Frank Reid and Mr. and Mrs. Don Macnab; January: Mr. and Mrs. Bob Byrd and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brown; February: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lloyd and Mrs. Sarah Glandonatti; March: Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Medler and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Burnett; April: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Beers and Mr. and Mrs. Wynn Roberts; May: Mr. and Mrs. George Fox and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Huck. The committee which prepared this list asks all who cannot serve at this time, please get their own substitutes to serve.

The election is going on today at the Rufus Grange hall. The women of the grange are using the grange kitchen to serve lunch for the board and the voters. Mrs. Walter Morris is chairman of the Home Ec club of the Grange with the members helping out.

This area got rain Saturday night and more fell Monday night, which is hoped will be sufficient moisture to start the wheat growing that was seeded in the dust. Now the farmers think they will soon get their barley seeded. More rain is expected soon, now that we have had this much.

The wind tore through Rufus Monday night blowing what we call a gale. Limbs from trees were laying on the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jordan took a drive and had dinner at Hood River Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George For were dinner guests Sunday at the home of their son in law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weatherford and family at Olex.

Mrs. Benton Barnett entertained Thursday afternoon at her home.

The PTA social group presented Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lloyd's new baby with a gift at the school Monday night.

Don Kohlmeier, who was married Saturday, brought his wife to the PTA social group meeting Monday night and introduced her to the community people where they will live for this school year. Don is the fifth and sixth grade teacher at Rufus school.

Van Visit Hours Set For schools

Schedule for schools to bring their pupils to the Van of History this weekend has been determined by the principal and superintendent Hampton. Kent pupils will visit at 1:00 Friday, Wasco at 1:15, Moro at 2:00 and Grass Valley at 2:30. Bus schedules make the time somewhat restricted. Rufus children will come Saturday as well as high school pupils who will be busy playing football Friday afternoon.

Rain Falls; Makes Farmers Happier

It has been raining all week, not steady, never hard, but foggy and drizzling. Little rain has fallen, not more than a quarter of an inch. Yet, it is the most encouraging weather of the entire fall for wheat growers.

Monday night really started it when the wind whipped across the county, tearing off shingles and blowing down trees and bringing a little fast traveling rain.

Changes In Tax Laws May Help Ma'y Farmers

The last session of congress passed several bills and amendments that will affect farmers. "Depreciation, for example. You can now take an extra 20% for depreciation in the first year on "Tangible Personal property." That does not include permanent buildings, but does cover machinery, equipment . . . practically anything you can move.

New and used purchases are eligible, starting with anything bought during this year . . . providing it figures to last 6 years and cost of the property is no more than $10,000 ($20,000 on a joint return).

Farm operating losses in any one year, starting with 1958, now may be carried back three years instead of two as in the past.

A third tax change provides more liberal handling of estate levies. Now you can pay them over a ten-year period instead of all at once.

Monthly social security benefit payments next year will group 7% or $3.00 per month whichever is more.

Taxes to pay for the program will also start going up next year, continuing to rise after that for 10 years. The rate for self-employed people, including farmers, goes up in '59 from 3.3-8% to 3.3-4%, and will be hiked to 6.3-4% by 1969.

Farm employers will pay higher taxes on wages of hired hands. The rate will rise from 2.1-4% to 2.1-2% next year, going to 4.1-2% by 1959.

Rufus Personals

By Mrs. Geo. L. Fox

Halloween witches and goblins were out in assorted costumes and masks Friday evening to visit the different homes with "Trick or Treat". It was a very well behaved bunch that came around early in the evening for at 7 p. m. there was a party at the Rufus school for the pre-school and school children in the grades. They had a parade of the children who were all given suckers to eat. The fish pond, the universal favorite of the young fry was well stocked and patronized. Two Halloween movies were shown at the school. Games were played and all given treats of cider, doughnuts, pop corn balls and apples. This has been the custom at Rufus for several years to have
