County Official Paper

These Things We Note

Giles L. French

Youth is a wonderful thing but men should outgrow it by 35.

TTWN

A clipping has made its way to this office with the heading that "Delinquents are made, not born." True.

TTWN

By saying New York's citizen's money is expendable Rockefeller has made himself expendable.

TTWN

Senator Fulbright, the new head of the foreign relations committee would like to get along with Russia. Good idea. We hope, however, we do not lose too much while Fulbright is finding out we can't get along except on Russia's terms.

TTWN

A $60,000,000 bond issue to pay for more bonds and a bridge at Astoria would entail a $7 raise in auto licenses. Thankfully it will need a vote.

TTWN

Roman rulers robbed February of part of its days but in America we have given it more than its share of holidays.

TTWN

Car drivers have suddenly become aware to the implications of SB 139 which would restrict drivers below 17 and make physical examinations necessary for those over 60. We thought it was the mind that caused most accidents.

TTWN

We read a story in a reliable magazine that a man had driven a steam car across the continent on $4.50 worth of stove oil. Let that get around so the gas taxers can hear it.

TTWN

The importation of foreign cars is nothing to what might happen if the cost of other things goes on up. We could import them, too.

TTWN

The government is laying plans to break up General Motors. Now will some one start plans for breaking up the government. It is too big, too. And the trouble with big government is that it cannot be broken up by law; it takes blood.

TTWN

The peoples of the world must not have any great troubles or they would not be concerned about going to the moon.

TTWN

Governor Nelson Rockefeller is letting his millions show by asking for more of everything for New York, principally taxes.

TTWN

Overheard: "She is a lady well equipped for sitting."

TTWN

Centennial edition of the Portland papers were thick and heavy and filled with information about Oregon.

TTWN

The federal cost of living index includes nearly everything. Cost of living for most of us is the cost of what we have to have.

TTWN

One of the things to be happy about is that we are not a public utility with everyone having a hand in our business.

TTWN

There's one thing we're sure of: in this centennial year we are glad we're not a horse. Pavements are bad for pasterns.

TTWN

There is a bill to pay salary and expenses of an acting governor. We used to think it was an honor instead of a job.

TTWN

Women of Kansas and England vied in a race this week in which contestants ran while flipping pancakes. Fine. The ability to flip pancakes in front of a stove may be obsolete but preserved on a track.

TTWN

Oregonians talk bravely about broadening the tax base and cravenly about taxing the lower brackets necessary to do the job.

TTWN

We may think things are bad, but wait until newspapers and the public generally gets tired of patronizing negroes. The test will come then on integration.

TTWN

Happy Birthday to you.

Sherman Huskies Win Two To Keep League Lead

Regulations For Certification Stated

Grain to be certified must be from Oregon certified seed or another approved source. The land must not have grown an indistinguishable variety or an uncertified lot of the same variety for at least two years previous to planting. All or part of a field may be certified, but if only part, must be isolated by field boundary or hay strip. Fields must pass inspection as to other varieties and disease and a harvested grain seed sample as to purity and germination.

The seed certification program is one to help growers maintain or secure recommended seed varieties that meet given standards. All seed grown now originally was derived from lots of seed passing certification. Fees are 60¢ per acre with a minimum of $5.00 for the program.

Programs About State Anniversary Are For Public

Centennial events for this week end are as follows:

Friday at two o'clock at the school cafeteria the Sherman High school students will present a centennial program built around Oregon history, Sherman county history and music. Particular attention will be given to the history of schools and there will also be a style revue and some general history.

The Sherman Hi Times will issue a centennial edition for the occasion.

Saturday at two o'clock the Pomona Grange will give a centennial program at the Rufus grange hall which will feature a history of the grange in Sherman county, old and new dancing, old and new songs. There will also be a display of things historical that have been gathered by members recently.

Both of these programs are open to the public and, in fact, the public is cordially invited to come to both.

Joe Rutledge Buried In Portland Monday

Joseph V. Rutledge who would have been 69 in April, died in Portland Friday after a long illness following a heart attack. Joe Rutledge was born in Rutledge, in 1890 and lived in Moro during his youth where his father operated the Moro Hotel.

Surviving are his widow, twin daughters now living in California, two sisters, Mrs. Jeanette Rudeen of Portland and Mrs. Frances King of The Dalles and a brother, Clarence of The Dalles. Funeral services were held in Portland Monday. His nephews, Bob and Don King of Sherman county attended the funeral.

Bob Roberson Gets New Job In Islands

From the Philippine Flyer, Clark Airbase—"We're very happy to welcome a new staff member to the Education Center. Mr. Robert "Robbie" J. Roberson, former sixth grade teacher at the Wurtsmith Memorial School, "Robbie" comes to the Education Center to fill the position vacated by Mrs. Edna Black and will take over directorship of the United States Armed Forces Institute program.

Mr. Roberson is a graduate of Eastern Oregon College with a BS degree in Education and is in his second year at Clark air base. His transfer to the Education Center was a promotional switch and the Wurtsmith school's loss is definitely the center's gain."

Mr. and Mrs. Roberson plan to make a visit to the States this summer to Mrs. Roberson's home in California and his home in Oregon.

Two Sentenced To Six Years For Theft

Judge E. H. Howell was here briefly Wednesday afternoon to sentence Francis Diggins, 32, and Elmer William Mollote, 38, to six years in the Oregon penitentiary for grand larceny.

The men pled guilty to stealing a car from Eugene C. Eaton of Rufus late in January. They got as far as The Dalles bridge junction before being picked up by state police because they were seen leaving the Eaton place by neighbors.

Both have long records and both were recently released from penitentiaries in the midwest, one the federal pen at Leavenworth. He was out a mere two weeks.

Church Plans Dinner And Show Sunday

The Community Presbyterian Church is planning a very special event for next Sunday afternoon following church service.

The fellowship hour begins with a pot luck dinner to be followed by a splendid 72 minute film "The Unfinished Task". This film which is concerning the outreach of our church is proclaimed as one of our finest of religious films. It is for all the family.

Nurses Meeting To Discuss Legislation

Mrs. Lucy Mullins, president of district No. 2 Oregon State Nurses association announced that all graduate and practical nurses as well as other interested persons are invited to sit in on the program of the regular meeting which will be held Monday night, February 16 in the meeting room of the PP&L building on Court street. The program will be in the form of a panel discussion regarding current public health and nursing legislation. Participating in the program will be: Dr. E. E. Berg, medical director, Wasco-Sherman County Health Dept., Mr. Irv Reinson, health dept. sanitation, a representative from the state legislative committee, Oregon nurses association and Mrs. T. Sears, member of the League of Women Voters as moderator.

County Agent Reports on Events

4-H club work. The committee gave consideration to various phases of fair activities. One was financing of the fair. The group recognized a growing demand on fair money for items other than educational in nature. They recommended each county organize a special group to work with county fair boards to assure adequate understanding of the support needed for this educational activity.

4-H Fair Objectives

During the annual State 4-H Leader's Association meeting in January several committees functioned. One group considered 4-H fairs. They pointed out that fairs are basically educational and the individual development of the local participants should be the primary objective.

Specific values of 4-H club fairs were spelled out as follows: (1) To provide a symbol of achievement and a reward for the completion of projects. (2) To encourage parent interest and cooperation in 4-H club work. (3) To teach sportsmanship. (4) To provide an incentive for 4-H club membership. (5) To help develop young people through encouraging them to make their own best, better. (6) To acquaint the public with

FFA Boys Will Be Hosts To Parents At Annual Dinner

Sherman FFA chapter will entertain the parents of members and a few guests who have been helpful to the chapter during the year at the school cafeteria Saturday evening in an observance of national FFA week.

Leaders of the 28 boys who make up the chapter will review the work of the past year and give the background of FFA work in nation. A state officer is expected to be present for the occasion.

Weather Colder But Not Unseasonable

Followers of Krick as a weather prophet were somewhat dismayed but pleased when the temperature did not turn downward to near zero at the end of last week as he had foretold. But Krick was wrong only in degree. The weather did turn cold, although a few days later than the prophesy and it has been cold ever since with frost every night unless the sky clouds over. Days have been partly sunny and warm enough for February. There was a covering of snow Sunday night that remains on north slopes at press time although endangered by a bright sun. It put thoughts of field work out of the minds of farmers yet some plowing has been done around Wasco.

Arvid Anderson Dies After Long Illness

Arvid E. Anderson, long a Sherman county farmer, died in The Dalles Saturday evening after a long illness.

Arvid Anderson was born April 7, 1883 in Sweden and came to America when 20 years old, living first in Iowa before coming to Sherman county where he worked for John Fulton. He worked there so long and so faithfully that on Mr. Fulton's death the home place was given to Mr. Anderson. He has lived there about 50 years.

He was naturalized in 1914 and married in 1916 to Ethel White who passed away in 1951.

Mr. Anderson was on the board of the Sherman Co-op Grain Growers, and the old Locust Grove school board.

Surviving is a son, Fred, and several nieces and nephews in Iowa and Sweden.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at Smith Callaway chapel with interment in the IOOF cemetery in The Dalles.

Moro Women's Club Plans Campaigns

The Moro Women's club met on February 5 at the home of Mrs. Ernest Goodenberger. Mrs. Vernon Miller was assistant hostess.

Mrs. R. N. Olsen presided at the business meeting. Mrs. John Parker reported that a class at Sherman High school had addressed the envelopes for the Easter Seals, and that groups would soon be "stuffing" them for mailing.

Matters discussed were the presenting of a scholarship to a graduating senior, and of making a contribution to the Moro Community Presbyterian church's service as a community center. Both will be considered again at the March meeting.

Mrs. A. Douma and Mrs. Truman Strong were named as a committee to head the CARE campaign in the community.

Mrs. Hildred Zell of Wasco, a member of the International Affairs department of the General Federation of Women's clubs, gave an interesting and informative talk on world affairs. She said "Foremost in importance to us are the problems of disarmament, underdeveloped areas, and the re-unification of Germany". She emphasized that "Communism is a religion of promises that are never kept, but are like pie-crust - made to be broken. There are 900 million communists today - occupying one third of the world." She urged that American women begin seriously to indoctrinate our youth on the heritage of our freedom.

Mrs. Olsen expressed the pleasure of the club at her speaking, and presented Mrs. Zell with a gift.

The hostesses served cherry-filled heart-shaped tarts, topped with whipped cream, accompanied by tea or coffee.

Fair Board Signs Contract For June Rodeo

There will be no rodeo at the Sherman County Fair when it is held August 28-29-30.

That was definitely decided at a fair board meeting held last week almost immediately after the appointment of Hans Bardenhagen to the board. There were things to be done.

Three Performances

There will be a rodeo, however. The board signed a contract with Harley Tucker, who has been putting on the fair rodeo for a few years, to bring his stock for a rodeo to be held at the fair grounds June 26-27-28. It will be a three day show. There will be two night performances and the final one on Sunday June 28 in the afternoon.

The contract with Tucker is $3000 which is the same price he has been getting for the fair rodeo.

RCA Approved

The June event will be a RCA approved show. The group is also a member of the Tri-State Professional Management which is the new name for the Northwest Rodeo Management Ass'n. Points won in the June show will count in the Northwest and national competitions for cowboy prizes, the fair board said.

The fair board is now open to suggestions about what to have for a program at the fair.

Fertilizer Research Meeting Called

Latest research results on fertilizer applications and weed control will be presented during the general meeting, February 20, at 1:30 p. m. county courthouse, Moro, T. W. Thompson, county agent has announced. The program has been planned at the request of the Weed Control committee of the Sherman County Rural Advisory council, to bring the latest research results to county farmers.

Morning glory research results using 2,4-D and the new TBA (Chlorobenzoic Acid) will be the highlight of the program. Dean Swan, in charge of weed research in the Columbia Basin, Pendleton branch experiment station, will review research work over the past few years on morning glory. Mr. Swan will also comment on cheatgrass and rye control for fence row and fields. Research results conducted in the Columbia Basin will be presented.

Hall To Talk

W. E. Hall, superintendent, Sherman branch experiment station will discuss "Source and Time of Nitrogen Application." Use of Uran and 2,4-D and progress of nitrogen-moisture testing will be reviewed by Howard Cushman, extension soils specialist, OSC.

The program should be of interest to any county farmer, states Thompson. Time will be provided for questions by the audience.

Stockmen Meet To Talk About Bulls

Breeders, feeders, commercial producers and county agents from 15 Oregon counties met at Redmond last week to discuss the possibility of organizing a state beef performance association. A temporary committee of five Oregon producers was selected to work up plans for an organization to determine desirability of affiliation with the Performance Registry International, determine production improvement standards, and have a planned method of financing. A June meeting is planned for the committee to report and form a definite group.

The Performance Registry International was organized in 1955 with some 12 states now affiliated. The organization has as its purpose to set up machinery to give emphasis and recognition to animals that meet minimum standards. Dr. J. C. Miller, head of the animal husbandry department, OSC, told the group future selection of cattle will be based on conformation, gain or performance, and desirable carcass type. Ability to gain is a highly inherited factor in animals and that it is independent of conformation.
