The best-known secret in brewing

Since before the turn of the century, brewing authorities in Europe and this country have agreed that a common link exists between the world's great beers. Whether brewed in Bavaria, the British Isles or America, beers with world-wide reputations for quality always have been found to possess brewing waters of exceptional character and unchanging excellence. These rare waters are capable of extracting from select hops and grains the most delicate flavors and aromas. One such water flows cold and clear from Olympia's own artesian wells. It is this rare, naturally perfect brewing water that makes the refreshing difference in light Olympia Beer.

Sun Life of Canada Sells Record $990 Million In '58

Over $8 billion life insurance now in force;
$36 million for policyholder dividends in '59

More life insurance sold by the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada in 1958 than in any other year in the 88 year history of the Company was one of the highlights announced by George W. Bourke, President, in his review of Sun Life's business for 1958. Much of this record figure of $990 million was purchased in the United States, where the Company has 34% of its business in force. Included in the new business figure was $265 million of group insurance. During 1958, life insurance in force in the Company passed another milestone and, at the end of the year, amounted to $8,357,000,000 which is more than double the amount in force ten years ago. In 1959, the Sun Life will pay out $36,200,000 in dividends to policyholders, an increase of $2½ million over that paid out in 1958.

Last year, $159 million, or $627,000 every working day, was paid to policyholders, annuitants and beneficiaries. Of these amounts, nearly $110 million was paid to living policyholders and annuitants, and $49½ millions to the beneficiaries of deceased policyholders. The benefit payments made by the Company since it commenced business now total $3,455,000,000.

The report also reveals that completely revised scales of premium rates have just been introduced for new business in the United States. These new rates involve the principle of grading premiums by amounts of insurance, and also reflect the further improvement in mortality which has taken place in recent years. Existing holders of participating policies benefit from improvement in mortality through the periodic revisions in dividend scales.

Mr. Bourke reported that the death rate among Sun Life policyholders in 1958, was slightly less than in the previous year, thus continuing the favorable trend of recent years. Research which life insurance companies aid in financing, continues on heart disease and cancer, which account for over 75% of the Company's death claim payments, as compared with 60% twenty years ago. The proportion of death by accidents, the third ranking killer, rose from 6% in 1957 to over 8% during the past year.

Mr. Bourke also spoke about the corrosive effects of inflation on the dollar, and urged the old fashioned practice of "thrift." "To the policyholders of the Sun Life," he said, "and to the tens of millions of other life insurance policyholders, this is not a new word. By your personal belief in the independence of providing for oneself, you are exercising thrift; you are withholding dollars from today's income in order to send them ahead to provide tomorrow's needs and comforts. It is, however, our duty as your insurer, and the duty of each of us as citizens, to help our government to exercise thrift in our national affairs and to maintain the integrity of our currency. A stable dollar is vital to a healthy and dynamic economy."

A copy of Sun Life's 1958 Annual Report, including the President's review of the year, is being sent to policyholders, or may be obtained from Stuart Johnson, 1110 Winter St. N. E. Salem, Oregon.
