COMPARISONS

When the John Day dam is completed it will have cost something in excess of $300,000,000 to judge from McNary which cost more than that and The allies which is approaching that figure.

The assessed valuation of Sherman county is around $10,000,000 on a twenty percent valuation which puts its value at $50,000,000. Sherman is one of Oregon's good agricultural counties annually producing enough wheat to feed the entire state and enough cattle to provide beef for Sunday dinners.

The dam will produce electricity. Electricity is a very handy thing to have around when it gets dark and it can be used to bake bread and roast meat. But as compared to bread and meat it is still a gimmick. Yet, the value of one dam, designed primarily for production of electricity, is worth six times as much as a whole county that can and does raise something as elemental as food.

As our civilization progresses the essential things decrease in importance. This puts things out of balance, puts the emphasis on the least important items. To do so may be human folly with a long history. We have always paid more for cake than for bread.

It takes a first rate depression to put things back in proper focus and teach people the value of the basic needs. The little old recession we had recently didn't even make workers work, nor did it even reduce the price of the fripperies we so enjoy.

RODEO

The Sherman county fair board is trying an experiment. Practically estopped from having a rodeo during the fair because of the numerous rodeos in the area which causes a shortage of performers as well as a shortage of customers, the fair board decided to move the annual rodeo up to late June.

It will be held June 26-28 with a show Friday and Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, the finals. Harley Tucker will furnish the stock and many of the well known names in rodeo will be announced as contestants by the announcer during the performance.

Although the board decided against interspersing the show with acts it has hired a couple of clowns to work in the arena and has contracted to bring some buffalo to the show to give the boys a chance to try riding them. Not every one has seen buffalo and this will be an opportunity. Also the Lane County Scottish band of Bagpipers, 25 strong, will drive over from Eugene to squeak and squeal about the grounds and give everyone a chance to decide the old question of whether bagpipers make music or noise.

If the show makes money or breaks even it is probable that the fair board will be inclined to continue it hereafter and thus assure the county of another form of amusement. In the end it is the local citizens who will decide the matter by their attendance.

WHEAT PLAN

Congress came close to settling the wheat problem and we think accidentally when it proposed a bill that would permit farmers to grow all the wheat they wanted to and receive half the parity price for it. Instead congress will probably favor a bill that will reduce the total acreage of wheat from 55 million to a somewhat lesser figure and raise the parity percentage.

The first bill mentioned would have done away with that silly 15 acre business entirely but the more generally favored bill will cut it to 12 acres only. None of the bills will apply to the 1959 crop, the chance for that having been lost when congress delayed until June first.

Big wheat farmers should be happy that a bill so good as the one to let him who will grow wheat and do away with many restrictions got as much attention as it did. Fifty per cent of parity would bring a government loan of $1.12 to $1.20 and we do not think the price would go below that if there were no loan at all. A lot of wheat could be used at that price. Feeders would use it, foreign countries would buy it and it is probable that industry could find use for wheat at a moderate price.

Besides a wheat farmer, and by wheat farmer we mean a man with land best adapted to wheat and with modern equipment to farm a lot of it, would be far better off in an expanding market than in a restricted one. At present the efficient operators are being handicapped by petty rules initiated for political advantage and utterly without reason.

True the whole world over

Each region of the world, each period in history, has recorded knowledge of the art of brewing. Authorities have found that, while brewing methods varied, one ingredient remained constant wherever beer of exceptional quality was made. The one priceless ingredient was water.

Whether it be the British Isles or the Continent, the Old World or the New... the character of the brewing water is largely responsible for the excellence of the beer. That is why Olympia Beer has gained such fame! Water that is naturally perfect for brewing flows from Olympia's own artesian wells. It is this rare brewing water that achieves for light Olympia Beer good taste that is refreshingly different, yet always just the same.

WHAT'S DOING

Cal Horn, your Telephone Manager

With more and more cars on the road, safe driving is a big part of any telephone installer's job. Take our telephone installers for example. Each installer takes a special course in "defensive driving" before he gets behind the wheel of any telephone service car or truck. And to make sure he doesn't forget the things he's learned, he takes a check-up ride regularly, and a complete driving test every 2 years. What's more, he even has his eyes tested every 3 years. Our telephone people who drive company cars also get training in "defensive driving". This extra care helps us to be better drivers and do our part to make the streets safer for everyone. And we believe we serve you best when we serve you safely.

The largest Telephone in the world is now open for inspection at Portland's Rose Festival Center in the Park Blocks. Even the interior parts of this "Princess" telephone are super-sized. You'll see them glowing in black light as you tour through our gigantic model. You will also want to see the many telephone company exhibits displayed at the Centennial Exposition grounds and watch demonstration of Direct Distance Dialing calls to all parts of the United States and Hawaii.
