

Moro Personals

Visitors from out of the forty year past were in Moro Tuesday when Mrs. Loretta Kennelly of Pennsylvania and Mrs. Lois Elwell of Longview, Wash., stopped here for lunch with Mrs. Velma McKean. Both were daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Jackson, one time druggist of Moro. Mrs. Kennelly (then Loretta Jackson) was in the same grade with Velma in school while living here. The Jackson family left here about 1918, moving to Portland where Mr. Jackson ran a small drug store, until his death a year or so ago. Mrs. Jackson still makes her home in Portland.

Jim Belshe left Thursday for Washington State University in Pullman. He will be a junior this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Conlee came home the first of the week from Portland where they had been to visit relatives and attend the Oregon Story at the Centennial.

Wiley W. Smith and Don B. Card of Portland were here Tuesday to talk over some tax problems with Giles French.

Mrs. Clair Balzer made a visit to The Dalles to consult her doctor Monday.

Alfred Kock came home from the hospital Friday fairly well recovered from his injuries received when his truck overturned on the fishing road.

Miss Carol Burnett started a term of school teaching at Salem Monday her first school since graduation from OSC last June.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin VanGilder spent the week end at Albany visiting relatives and returned through Portland to see the Oregon Story pageant.

Sandy Zachary is getting ready to leave for Monmouth to start school there in preparation to learning to be a teacher.

William F. Guyton Killed In Accident

William F. Guyton, 42, was apparently instantly killed when his heavy car left Sherman Highway just south of the county line last Thursday night and rolled over three times. Guyton was driving north from Shaniko. His body was found the next morning atop his ruined car.

Guyton was a son of Albert Guyton and was born June 29, 1917 and graduated from The Dalles high school in 1936. He had been a resident of Wasco and Sherman counties until he moved to Portland where he was working as a salesman. Surviving are two sons and a daughter. Funeral services were held in Portland with interment in Willamette National cemetery.
